Red China Is Isolated, Rusk Claims

Some Mystery In Current Events Among Leadership

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today authorities in Red China "have run into very serious problems in both their internal economic situation and in their relations with the rest of the world."

"They have isolated themselves even within the Communist world," Rusk told reporters on his arrival from Tokyo for a two-day visit to Formosa.

Rusk said there was still something of a mystery as to what is happening to the Chinese Communist leaders. But he said he was sure that the events taking place there "are very important although we do not know what they mean."

Rusk answered "No" when asked if there had been any change in U.S. policy on the question of Chinese membership in the United Nations.

Rusk, who is leaving Friday for South Viet Nam, said in reply to a question about the situation there: "I think it is quite clear now that the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong will not be able to achieve a military success there.

"And I think the sooner they recognize it and start moving toward peace, the better for all concerned."

Reverting to the situation on the mainland, Rusk said: "It is very unfortunate that the authorities in Peking did not sign the nuclear test ban treaty and they they injected this part of the world to the nuclear arms problem.

"But we don't anticipate that that's going to be a security threat to our allies or to us for a very long time to come.

"It would be an act of madness for them to think about using any such weapons."

Rusk was given a ceremonial welcome on his arrival at the airport, including an honor guard and a 19-gun salute.

Rusk will confer with President Chiang Kai-shek and be his dinner guest Thursday.

Legislators Preparing For Session

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — About 40 new members of the legislature are getting a look at state institutions this week and next to familiarize themselves with problems expected to come up in the 1967 session.

Shepherding the freshman legislators is veteran Sen. J. F. Patterson, D., Caruthersville, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The tour by bus started Monday from Jefferson City and the group headed for the Nevada State Hospital, then on to Joplin.

Tuesday the itinerary included Missouri Southern College at Joplin, the Ozark Psychiatric Center there, the State Sanatorium at Mt. Vernon, Southwest Missouri State College at Springfield, the fruit and poultry experiment stations at Mountain Grove.

Today the group went to Rolla to look at the School of Mines, to the St. James Federal Soldiers' Home, Farmington State Hospital and Southeastern State College at Cape Girardeau.

Thursday will be spent in St. Louis inspecting the state hos-

Collector's Office Is Open At Noon Hour

Pettis County Tax Collector Raymond (Flackie) Wilder said today that his office would be open during the noon nour for the rest of the year and also on Saturday until noon, for the convenience of people to pay their taxes.

He also mentioned that penalties would begin on Jan. 1 and would be levied at three per cent for the first month, and would increase by one per cent for each month thereafter until reaching the maximum of 12 per cent for the year.

Any taxes sent in and postmarked by Dec. 31, will not be penalized, he added.

Wilder said that the collections are running normally, with some 30 per cent already in. The real rush to pay always comes during the last few days however, he asserted.

Truce Flag Hoisted Over University After Threat

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California's classroom boycott was called off Tuesday night after regents threatened to fire any faculty members who strike in the future.

The truce flag was hoisted after members of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers, which represent many teaching assistants on campus, overwhelmingly voted suspension of their strike. It was labeled "conditional," however, depending on negotiations with the administration.

Student strike committeemen immediately called a "temporary recess" to their boycott, saying they would nevertheless persist in demands for campus reform. The committee's demands include advocacy rights on campus for certain nonstudent groups, and a promise that outside police never again be called to the campus.

Committee action came after some 6,000 students at a noon rally voted to return to classes providing the teachers federation called off its part of the walkout.

The student committee called for a boycott Nov. 30 after a sit-in and fight started over the presence at the Student Union of a Navy recruiting table. Alameda County sheriff's deputies were called by an administration officer and 10 persons were arrested, including six nonstudents.

Restoration of an uneasy peace to the 27,500-student campus came under added pressure of final exams which are only five days off.

A tough resolution calling for the firing of university personnel and faculty members who strike the university in the future came during an emergency session of regents at Oakland.

Hearnes In Salute To Program

Governor Warren E. Hearnes, Missouri Honorary State Chairman for the United States Savings Bonds program, today saluted the Treasury's announcement that the total of Series E and H Bonds outstanding had passed the $50 billion mark for the first time.

"This is wealth held in the hands of the millions and millions of Americans who have found their way to financial security through regular investment in these shares in their country," said Gov. Hearnes.

The Governor pointed out that since the beginning of the Savings Bonds program, on May 1, 1941, more than $150 billion of bonds have been sold. Of this total, about $100 billion have gone to make down payments on homes, educate children, supplement retirement income and cover multiple other needs.

The outstanding success of the Savings Bonds program was cited by Gov. Hearnes as a tribute to the volunteer effort that has carried the program forward since its beginning. All facets of the Savings Bonds campaign — in Payroll Savings, bank sales, publicity and community activities — have depended upon volunteer support.

Since the Savings Bonds program began, more than 2.7 billion individual bonds have been sold, of which 93 per cent were in the sizes most popular with Payroll Savers — those of the $25 to $200 denominations. Dollar-wise, these categories represent more than 60 per cent in E Bond sales.

It is estimated that residents of Missouri hold approximately $1½ billion of the $50 billion now outstanding.

Pearl Attack 'Taught US A Lesson'

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze said today the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor 25 years ago taught the United States unforgettable lessons which must now be applied in Southeast Asia.

Speaking at services at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific, Nitze said that the sacrifice of 2,400 men who died at Pearl Harbor taught the United States it must maintain a deterrent to enemy attack "with strategic forces appropriately deployed and tactical defensive forces ready to move wherever they are needed."

He said that Pearl Harbor also taught "that we must be prepared to prevent the flaunting of international agreements and treaties, by military force if necessary."

Nitze reminded his audience of 900 survivors and their families that "peace has yet to come to Asia, and the United States once again is fighting there. A new and powerful menace looms."

"The danger in Asia today is the threat posed to the rest of Asia by aggression," he added.

He said that the surprise bombing of Dec. 7, 1941, demonstrated that freedom cannot be preserved by policies of neutrality and isolation.

"Today we remember those who died at Pearl Harbor and reflect on what their sacrifices, and the sacrifices of many who followed them have meant to the country," Nitze continued.

He said that as well as the militaristic lessons learned, the sacrifice of so many American lives helped to change the Japan of 1941 into "a major power on the side of peace and respect for international law, a staunch friend and a fortress of democracy in the Pacific."

The ceremony in Punchbowl Crater was sponsored by the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, whose members have been touring the Hawaiian islands this week and showing their families what it was like that Sunday in 1941.

Bullets Kill 'Chico' Amico Early Today

REVERE, Mass. (AP) — A volley of armor-piercing rifle bullets killed Joseph (Chico) Amico, 27, of Boston, early today in what police said was the 36th gangland slaying in Greater Boston in 2½ years.

Police said the shots apparently came from two cars passing the car Amico was riding. The car hit a telephone pole and stopped about 200 yards from the scene of an earlier gangland slaying.

Amico was found slumped on the passenger's side of the front seat. The driver, identified as James Kerns, 28, of Boston, was charged with being an accessory after the fact of murder.

Kerns, found near the car after it crashed, was treated at Massachusetts General Hospital for a wound of the right cheek.

Doctors said they did not know if the injury occurred in the crash or whether it was a bullet wound. Kerns was reported in good condition.

Medical Examiner Dr. Michael Luongo said Amico was shot at least twice.

About six bullet holes were found in the trunk of the car and four or five in the front of the car.

Police said Amico and Kerns were seen together in a night club Tuesday night.

An official said he spoke to a person at the night club who said he heard Amico say, "Please straighten it out. It means my life."

Satellite Racing To Lofty Post

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —A sparkling new "public benefactor" satellite raced toward a lofty Pacific outpost today, aiming to test advanced techniques for space communications and weather forecasting.

Among the satellite's goals are the first continuous weather pictures over one area of the globe, color television transmission between the United States and the Far East, and the evaluation of a space communications system for commercial and military aircraft.

The 1,547-pound payload, called ATS for Applications Technology Satellite, bolted away Tuesday night from Cape Kennedy atop an Atlas-Agena rocket.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the rocket performed perfectly and drilled ATS into an initial transfer orbit ranging from 115 to 22,749 miles above the earth.

"So far it looks beautiful," a NASA official reported.

Today, a kick motor was to fire and place ATS in a so-called synchronous orbit 22,3000 miles above the Pacific. It would seem to hover above Christmas Island.

The satellite is the first of five $9-million ATS payloads which officials said are being built "for the express purpose of bringing practical benefits to mankind from space technology."

From its stationary orbit, ATS would be able to photograph one-third of the earth on a continuing basis—providing meteorologists with a record of the birth and movement of major storm systems.

Boycott On Rhodesians Is Sought

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — African members of the United Nations sought support today to pressure the Security Council into slapping a total economic boycott on Rhodesia.

The African clamor rose as British Foreign Secretary George Brown arrived in New York to put a "soft" draft resolution before the council Thursday asking selective mandatory sanctions against the rebellious central African colony. The chief target would be Rhodesian exports.

British sources said Brown was empowered, if pressed, to include a limited embargo on export of oil to Rhodesia. But South Africa, Rhodesia's chief source of oil, has already said it would continue normal trade with its northern neighbor.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government turned to the Security Council after a last-ditch settlement was rejected Monday by the Rhodesian government.

The African bloc scheduled a meeting late today to map strategy for a new drive against the white minority government of Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Estimate War Costs Will Exceed Budget

Plans To Ask Congress For Supplemental Funds

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson estimates Viet Nam war costs between now and next June 30 will exceed earlier budget projections by $9 billion to $10 billion.

He plans to ask Congress next month for a supplemental appropriation to bridge the gap, he told a news conference Tuesday in his federal building office suite.

The President remained mum about the possibility of a 1967 tax increase, but said facts needed to make a decision are falling into place.

Although Johnson had predicted earlier that war outlays would top the budget figures by anywhere from $5 billion to $15 billion, the figures he cited at the news conference were perhaps a bit lower than many observers had expected.

Since the chief executive had long been citing the forthcoming Viet Nam money request as a major item to be pinned down before a tax decision, he was asked if the new estimate — as well as a recent federal forecast that business spending on plant expansion would slow down — would help him make such a decision.

"The answer is yes," Johnson replied. "It gives me help. If you are trying to find out if a decision has been made, it has not been."

Johnson went on to say, in response to another inquiry,

Assassinate Politician In Saigon Today

Police Announce One Man Confessed He Was Terrorist

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two youthful gunmen assassinated a leading South Vietnamese politician in Saigon today, and police announced that one, of the assassins confessed he was a Viet Cong terrorist.

The gunmen, firing at close range from a motorcycle, killed 58-year-old Tran Van Van as he rode in his car to his office.

A short time later, one of the pair was seized when he fell off the motorcycle near the residence of U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. The other assassin escaped.

Van, a wealthy, Paris-educated landowner long prominent in Vietnamese politics, was a leading member of the Constituent Assembly which is writing a constitution for South Viet Nam.

His slaying a few blocks from Premier Ky's office overshadowed war developments. Only minor ground actions were reported from the fighting fronts although U.S. bombers kept up their raids over North Viet Nam. U.S. destroyers shelled supply barges just off the North Vietnamese coast.

U.S. officials reported the discovery of two 62-pound satchel charges in an ammunition dump at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport, which was attacked by a Viet Cong suicide force last weekend. The explosive charges were disarmed by demolition experts.

Shortly after the assassination of Tran Van Van, police seized a youth of about 20 named Vo Van En and after questioning him all day announced he had confessed he was a Viet Cong ordered to kill Van.

May Limit Authority Of Boards

Expect To Seek Complete Revamp Of Draft System

CHICAGO (AP) — A national draft conference is expected to call today for a major overhaul of the nation's Selective Service System — with the emphasis on limiting the authority of local draft boards.

The consensus seemingly emerged after more than four days of wrangling debate on the draft and its alternatives. The conferees made it clear that they agreed, along with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, that the present draft laws are a haze of inequities.

The Massachusetts Democrat told a news conference Tuesday night that revision of the draft will emerge as "one of the most important and significant issues Congress will address itself to in the next few months."

"There is a concern around the country about the draft," Kennedy added "It is in the foremost in the minds of our young people."

He predicted Congress would act because the present Selective Service laws are not always fair, lack flexibility and have no degree of predictability.

To rectify this, Kennedy suggested that national standards be set up for the nation's more than 4,000 draft boards, making it impossible for one board to reject commercial pilots and another to classify them 1A, an example of inequities that have been reported.

Sprinkles To Head Highway Department

Lester Sprinkles, Route 4, assistant superintendent of the Pettis County Highway Department, has been named to take over the duties of the late Royal Ragar, according to C. Berry Elliott, presiding judge of the Pettis County Court.

Judge Elliott said the new duties for Sprinkles would be in effect until action was taken by the new county court at the beginning of next year.

Ragar was found dead near Highway 52 earlier this week.

Elliott said the present court would take no action on the vacancy.

Recall Attack

Bitter Footnotes...

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

From state capitals to college campuses, in churches, and on highways, millions of Americans remembered Pearl Harbor today on the 25th anniversary of the Japanese attack that brought the United States into World War II. Some of the observances took note of the Viet Nam war.

For some individuals, such as Husband E. Kimmel, the 84-year-old retired admiral who says he was blamed for America's worst naval defeat, the remembrance of Dec. 7, 1941, stirred up bitter memories.

That day a quarter of a century ago also left some footnotes to history: on the evening of the Pearl Harbor attack, Eleanor Roosevelt calmly scrambled eggs for guests at the White House, according to a journal among the manuscripts the Library of Congress in Washington put on exhibit to commemorate the 25th anniversary.

Hundreds of men who knew the horror of that December 7, a date which President Franklin D. Roosevelt said "will live in infamy," gathered in Pearl Harbor for the main commemorative ceremonies.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York ordered flags on all state buildings lowered to half staff this morning, then raised to full at noon "to remind us that we will always, with the grace of God, achieve final victory."

A special Mass was offered at Loras College in Dubuque, Iowa, for the Rev. Aloysius Schmitt, a Loras alumnus and Navy chaplain who was killed on the USS Oklahoma during the Japanese attack.

The Mass also was in memory of other chaplains and laymen of the Dubuque Roman Catholic diocese who died in action, including the Rev. William Barragy, another Loras alumnus killed recently in the Viet Nam war while serving as an Army chaplain.

Veterans groups in Carlsbad, N.M., asked residents of the city to observe a minute of silence at noon in conjunction with the sounding of 34 sirens. Motorists were asked to pull over to the side of the road.

At the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, brief ceremonies were scheduled at a tower housing the bell from the USS New Mexico, a World War II ship. The tower honors university students killed in the war.

The William Seely School in Groton, Conn., named for the first Groton boy who died in World War II, planned ceremonies including the presentation of a plaque to be mounted in Seely's memory. Seely was serving aboard the USS Arizona when the ship was bombed at Pearl Harbor.

In two-day ceremonies beginning today, Utah State University in Logan will dedicate its new "Center for the Study of the Causes of War and Conditions of Peace."

In an interview on the eve of the Pearl Harbor anniversary, Kimmel said at his Groton, Conn., ranch house that his being blamed for the naval defeat is "a bum rap."

"My principal occupation — what's kept me alive — is to expose the entire Pearl Harbor affair," said Kimmel, who on Dec. 7, 1941, was the No. 2 Navy man in America. He was the commander of the combined U.S. and Pacific fleets.

Kimmel was relieved of command 10 days after Japan knocked out 18 ships and killed 3,435 Americans, and in three months he was retired.

"They made me the scapegoat," he said. "They wanted to get the United States into the war."

Asked who he meant by "they," Kimmel replied: "That was President Roosevelt and Gen. George Marshall and others in the Washington high command. FDR was the architect of the whole business. He gave orders — and I can't prove this categorically — that no word about Japanese fleet movements was to be sent to Pearl Harbor except by Marshall and then he told Marshall not to send anything."

Kimmel, white-haired and alert, added: "God willing, within the next year, you'll see a couple of books published exposing the whole rotten mess."

Helen Steele Club Hears Musical Round The Clock

"Around the Clock with Music" was presented to members and guests of Helen G. Steele Music Club on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 30, at Heard Memorial Club House.

Mrs. Thelma Cook, narrator, defined time as duration with reference to the world as distinguished from eternity or infinity. Dawn is associated with joy, love, fresh beginnings, and energetic anticipation of accomplishment.

The first number in our musical round the clock, she continued, reflects the light-heartedness associated with early morning. "There's a Time for All Things," an 18th Century song, and "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" by Rodgers and Hammerstein, were sung by Mrs. Roger Martin, soprano, with Mrs. A. W. Barrick accompanist.

The organ solo, "Tico, Tico" by Abreu, with Mrs. Barrett at the organ, had the tango rhythm. Tico, who is the cuckoo in the clock, hurries the lover so he will not be late, advises him about every lovers land and tells him that the time is right for love.

Not every morning is full of sunshine, Mrs. Cook warned, however everyone knows how the presence of a loved one can dispell gloom of the foggiest day. "A Foggy Day" by Gershwin was sung by Mrs. Robert Seelen, alto. "Sunrise and Sunset" by Harnick and Bock, also sung by Mrs. Seelen, tells how sunrise followed by sunset have made the children change from seedlings into full bloom flowers.

In poetry and music the middle of the day does not inspire creative effects, however as the day advances toward evening and night a great flood of words and notes come forth. This was reflected in the two piano numbers, "Tea for Two" by Youmans and Caesar, and "Evening in Serville," by Walter Niemann, played by Mrs. C. W. Faulkner and Mrs. John S. Rundlett.

The mood of evening was displayed in two violin numbers, "Evening Star" by Wagner, and "Twilight Time," by Nevins and Dunn. Mrs. Hugo Riesel, Jr., was the violinist.

Night, Mrs. Cook, continued, affects both poets and musicians in various ways. Sometimes it is calm, sometimes ecstatic, often melancholy, and now and then even frightening. The organ is particularly adapted to the moods of night. "Night" by Cyril Jenkins, as played by Mrs. A. W. Barrick, organist, began on a rather somber note, built up to superb climax, and then faded back into the melancholy.

The closing numbers, "Night and Day" by Cole Porter and "When Day is Done," by Katcher, were sung by a sextette composed of Mrs. Donald Barnes, Mrs. Emmett Fairfax, Mrs. Peter Daniels, Mrs. Chester Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Ben Mahoney and Mrs. Keith Zahringer. Mrs. Barrick was accompanist for all the numbers.

The chairman for this highly entertaining program were Mrs. Keith Zahringer, Mrs. Emmett Fairfax and Mrs. Thelma Cook.

The following guests were introduced: Mrs. Myron Sinn, Mrs. Ed Worley, Mrs. Warren McGrath and Mrs. George McElroy.

Mrs. Hodges showed a copy of the state magazine of the Sedalia Jaycees which has a picture of the Heard Memorial Club House on the cover and an article inside telling of the Helen G. Steele Music Club. This article was written by Keith Zahringer.

Mrs. M. O. Stevens announced the Elks memorial service at which Helen G. Steele Music Club provides the music.

A memorial service was given to the memory of six club members who have died through the year, Mrs. William Ward, Mrs. Mae Moser Pulliam, Mrs. Ernest Gillespie, Mrs. D. P. Dyer, Mrs. John Petty, and Mrs. W. O. Harris. Mrs. Gilbert Jones read the poem "Ever Near," and under the direction of Mrs. M. O. Stevens, with Mrs. A. W. Barrick, accompanist, the members sang "In the Garden."

Mrs. William Green announced the next program will be on Wednesday, Dec. 14, a Christmas program followed by the traditional Christmas tea.

Rotary Club Hears Talk On Freedom Forum

Steven Schuber, Sacred Heart High School junior, gave an interesting and comprehensive report to members of the Rotary Club on Monday noon on the Freedom Forum sessions he attended last June through sponsorship by the Sedalia Farm Bureau. The Forum was held at Mexico Military Academy, Mexico, Mo., and was attended by high school students from throughout the state.

An explanation was given of all types of government from anarchy, a state of government without law, to total government or communism, by some of the country's leading educators. The evils and dangers of communism were explained as were the freedom of choice we have under our democratic form of government. Schuber stated it was explained that America's form of government may not be the best, but it has proven to be the best in practice.

Wayne Stackhouse, December program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Lou Tempel, president, reported that more than 150 Rotary members and their wives will attend the Rotary Christmas party next Monday night at the Holiday Inn starting at 6:30 o'clock.

Invocation was given by the Rev. J. R. Wallace. Group singing was led by Charles Hofheins.

Guests presented by Hardy Cobb were, Glenn Munden, Rotarian from Garland, Tex.; Galen L. Heritage, Warsaw Rotarian; Dean Johnson, Sedalia, with Firmin Boul; Ken Anderson, Clinton, with Owen Fox; Steve Bredwell and Gary Ford, student guests from Smith-Cotton High School and Tom McFadden, a student guest from Sacred Heart High School.

Industrial Might Takes Over In Japanese Economy

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — On this 25th anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, the economy of that once-defeated land is booming. Industrial might has replaced military power.

Reflecting this, its people, once led by militarists, seem dedicated to peace. But in 25 years a cruel irony has developed, and now much of Japan's good life is sustained by a war in Viet Nam.

Hundreds of millions of dollars flow into Japan because of the war. The estimate has even been placed as high as $1 billion but that is an extreme and unlikely figure.

These sales, of course, are primarily to the United States and South Viet Nam.

The relations between the United States and Japan, in a commercial sense at least, seem now as cordial as those between any two nations. Big problems exist, of course, but each problems can be worked out by diplomacy.

There are similarities in the businessmen of both nations that are really remarkable. Prototypes and counterparts are found in each. A "typical" American businessman is not much different from a "typical" Japanese businessman.

Partly because of American aid, which began immediately after the war, partly through American technology, and a good deal through Japanese inventiveness, ingenuity and good sense, Japan quickly recovered from World War II.

During this period a mutual respect developed among commercial interests and is now sometimes referred to as the "Pacific partnership" of Japan and America.

Annual trade between the two nations now is close to $4.5 billion, perhaps the greatest transoceanic commerce ever developed between two nations.

It may be argued, and it has been, that modern Japan's well being results from its need to fulfill the demands of its people through commercial rather than military means.

Modern Japan is no better off in natural resources than it ever was. In fact, it is far shorter of resources than its Atlantic counterpart, Britain, or any of the heavily industrialized nations of Europe.

Japan has attempted to solve through commerce what its previous military leaders would not have believed possible.

For example, it must import its coal, some even from the United States. It must import scrap steel from North America and iron ore from Australia. But, nevertheless, it still exports finished steel to the United States.

There are many measures of this success. Here are a few:

—A very large percentage of the cheap transistor radios sold in America, even some which carry well - known American trademarks, are made in Japan.

—Japan is the world's largest shipbuilder and its steel mills are the third most productive in the world.

—Despite her need to import — and that includes rice for her people and alfalfa for her cows — Japan has recently run up a surplus in her balance of payments account.

Ann Landers
Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Am I living in the dark ages or do I expect too much of my husband? Cocktail parties are my problem.

We walk into a cocktail party and off my husband goes for an hour or two or three. Occasionally, he'll whiz by and shout, "How are you doing?" But he's gone before I'm able to reply, "I'm doing absolutely lousy, thank you. I've been trapped by the world's biggest bores and my feet are killing me."

When I tell my husband I hate being stranded at cocktail parties but I could tolerate them if he would stay with me, he replies, "I don't like them myself, but it's an opportunity to make important contacts and just being seen is good for business. I can talk to YOU at home."

Am I being immature, as my husband insists? What can I do to cure him of abandoning me at these grueling affairs?—IGNORED WIFE.

Dear Wife: You have two choices, Lady. Either go to the cocktail parties with your husband and be prepared to fend off the bores, or stay home where you probably will feel twice as sorry for yourself.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 14-year-old girl who is writing to you because if I confessed this to anyone they'd think I was nuts.

This summer I went to Norway with my parents. So many wonderful things happened on the trip. When I came home, I felt all grown up.

Before I went away I hated doing dishes and making beds, and cooking and baking. Now I find housekeeping is a lot of fun. And do you know why? Because I pretend I am grown up and the house is mine. I even have an imaginary husband. Do you think I am crazy, Ann?—MISS PRETEND.

Dear Miss: No, I don't. It's fun to pretend. And as long as you KNOW you are pretending there is no harm in it. As it says in the song, if you want your dream to come true, you have to have a dream.

I'm printing your letter in the hope that other teen-agers who hate housework might get an idea. (If it works, millions of mothers will bless you!)

Dear Ann Landers: Last September I married a divorcee who has an 18 year-old son. Before we were married, she persuaded me to permit the boy to live with us until February when he would volunteer for the army.

February has come and gone and the boy is still here. He is mouthy, insolent, arrogant and he also is wrecking our marriage.

When I came from work tonight by wife was crying. She said the boy had been baiting her all day. They argue constantly and he gets on her nerves but she has never disciplined him.

The boy has a job and is self-supporting. He gets along fairly well with his father who is married. I feel he should go live there. I hate to make my wife choose between the boy and me, but that's the way things are headed. What is your opinion of this mess?—ON THE EDGE

Dear Edge: Remind your wife of the agreement that the boy would leave in February. But don't give her an ultimatum. It could wreck your marriage. Speak your piece and let's hope she has sense enough to do what should have been done in February.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Moments Before Attack On Pearl Harbor Remembered

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was Dec. 7, 1941 — one-quarter of a century ago.

A senator named Harry S. Truman was sound asleep in a small hotel in Columbia, Mo. Dwight D. Eisenhower, just promoted to brigadier general, was catching a nap in his quarters at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

Brig. Gen. Omar N. Bradley was admiring the flowers in the yard of his home at Ft. Benning, Ga.

A scrawny, 17-year-old farm hand, Audie L. Murphy, was trudging down a muddy road near Floyd, Tex.

Lt. Col. Mark Clark of the U.S. Army was taking an after-dinner stroll through a woods in Virginia.

In East St. Louis, Ill., muscular Hank Bauer, 19, was brooding over whether he would ever make it to the big leagues.

At the Defense Department in Washington a young captain of military intelligence, Dean Rusk, was poring over papers in his office.

Another young Army officer, William C. Westmoreland, was in his car between Ft. Bragg, N.C., and Greensboro, N.C.

All were about to hear that the Japanese had attacked Pearl Harbor, plunging the United States into World War II.

They heard it at various times, by various means and with various reactions.

Westmoreland is now the general commanding U.S. forces in another war — in Viet Nam.

As he recalls it: "On Dec. 7, 1941 I was a young captain on duty with the newly activated 9th Infantry Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C.

"The division had just returned from extensive maneuvers in North and South Carolina and, as I was driving from Ft. Bragg to Greensboro to visit friends, I heard the news of the Pearl Harbor attack over my car radio.

"I realized that this was the beginning of exciting years ahead. I considered myself fortunate to be a part of a ready unit of the U.S. Army. Shortly thereafter I was on my way to North Africa, not to return until over four years later."

Harry S. Truman, who became president before the war ended, was chairman of a special Senate committee investigating the defense program.

Exhausted by its long hearings, he had gone to Columbia for a rest before attending a state Democratic conclave on Dec. 9 at nearby Jefferson City, Mo.

A telephone call from Mrs. Truman, at their Washington home, roused him from sleep to hear the news of Pearl Harbor.

"He was frantic," his daughter Margaret, now Mrs. Clifton Daniel, related in her autobiography "Souvenir."

"He knew that he had to be back in Washington immediately but, pining for isolation, he had taken himself far from established airlines.

"He leaped into his clothes and walked across the field to a little private airport on the outskirts of Columbia and stated his predicament.

"The owner of the airport borrowed a private plane and flew him to St. Louis where he managed to get on a plane for Washington, arriving in time for the convening of Congress."

A rural mail carrier in an old model A Ford stopped on the muddy road near Floyd, Tex., to tell Audie Murphy about Pearl Harbor.

"I did not even know where Pearl Harbor was, or how it related to the United States," Murphy recalls. "But the man was highly indignant over the bombing so I thought I might as well be Indignant, Too."

Murphy tried to enlist in the Marines and paratroopers but they took one look at his skinny, 117-pound frame and turned him down. He finally got into the infantry on his 18th birthday, June 20, 1942.

During two years of combat in Europe, Murphy won the Medal of Honor and two Silver Stars for valor in combat, was wounded three times and was reported to have killed 240 of the enemy personally.

He is now a movie actor with a long string of screen credits.

Dwight D. Eisenhower had spent most of the day working on a report on Louisiana maneuvers. In this greatest peacetime military war game he had been chief of staff to Lt. Gen. Walter Kreuger.

He went to his quarters in the early afternoon, ate lunch and lay down for a nap. He was bone tired. "Under no circumstances," he told his wife Mamie, was he to be disturbed.

Eisenhower had barely closed his eyes when the telephone rang. It was an aide who informed him of the attack on Pearl Harbor. Five minutes later the future Allied military commander and U.S. President was back in his office.

Hank Bauer had just finished his first year of professional baseball — with Oshkosh of the Wisconsin State League.

"On Dec. 7, 1941, I was back in East St. Louis working as a maintenance man at the Obernester Glass Co.," he says, "I wasn't working that day, but I don't remember specifically what I was doing.

"I was just a kid at the time. happened before. I enlisted in the Marines the next month."

Bauer took part in some of the toughest Pacific theater actions, was badly wounded, won post-war stardom as a New York Yankee outfielder and last year managed the Baltimore Orioles to victory in the World Series.

Mark Clark, who led the Allied military assault on Italy in 1943, recalls: "We had finished dinner — this was out in the country in Virginia — and we were walking in the woods when we heard somebody running up calling to us to tell us Pearl Harbor had been bombed.

"Immediately I hurried to my car with Mrs. Clark and went right back to my headquarters at what is now Ft. McNair in Washington."

Dean Rusk, now secretary of state, was one of the first persons in America to hear about Pearl Harbor. It had yet to be announced by the White House when an officer for the Japanese section of the army intelligence staff ran into Rusk's office with the news.

Gen. Bradley, who led U.S. ground forces in their drive into Nazi Germany after D-Day, says: "I was stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., commandant of the post. I was out in my yard, looking at some of my flowers, when a friend came along and told me about the bombing. I was not too surprised.

"I got out of my casual clothes and into my uniform and went to post headquarters. I stayed there until 3 a.m. the next day putting into effect what we called then 'Emergency Plan White' — which sent detachments to all key critical points which needed guarding."

Joe Foss, a Marine fighter pilot at Sauphley Field, Pensacola, Fla., almost got shot on Pearl Harbor Day, although thousands of miles from the fighting. "I was getting ready to go dove hunting. When I heard the news my first reaction was shock, and I could see myself right in the middle of the war in short order," he says. "As it turned out, I wasn't in it until 10 months later at Guadalcanl.

"I was officer of the day which meant among other things that I had to check the sentries. I made my rounds on a bicycle. It was just getting dusk when a guard yelled 'halt.' I put on the brakes and the bicycle went out from under me.

"I got skinned a little. I was afraid the guard would get excited and shoot me."

Unfortunately for the Japanese air force, the guard held his fire. Foss went on to shoot down 26 Japanese aircraft in the Pacific Theater of Operations. He won the Medal of Honor and later, as a civilian, was twice elected governor of South Dakota and was commissioner of the American Football League.

And where was Lyndon B. Johnson, then a congressman from Texas; now the President of the United States?

Says Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary: "He doesn't have any special recollection of that day, including where he was."

Christmas Program At Sorosis

A program appropriate to the Christmas season was presented by a member of the speech department, Central Missouri State College, Monday afternoon at Sorosis, at Heard Memorial Club House, under the direction of Greg Kunesh.

Chairman of the group was Miss Sandra Glass who began the program with, "What is Christmas?" and then she went on to say, it is a feeling of warmth and friendliness. "Where is Christmas?" This she explained with, "It is all around us. It is forever, but it cannot be forever without love."

Charles Byrd then gave the first reading, "Christmas of Yesteryear." This consisted of memories of the warmth of Christmas in a family.

Holly, and mistletoe, bright lights, Miss Glass brought out the familiar beauty of Christmas and then added, "But there are others who are not so fortunate."

Miss Brenda Jones then gave a cheery and delightful reading "Christmas Morning, Almost."

The long time favorite, "Dear Virginia" was presented by Sandra Glass, who then gave the revealing fact that the fun of Christmas is when everybody tries to be like Santa Claus, in "Polly Finds Out Who Santa Is."

Very effectively, so much so that he even seemed like a small boy trying to be very good, Charles Byrd gave the long, loved poem by Eugene Field, "Just Before Christmas."

The closing number was by Brenda Jones, a very fitting closing, "The Sounds of Christmas," which told of the whispers of children, carolers, bells, the many, many sounds that are for Christmas alone. "The quiet joy of Christmas is ours forever."

Mrs. Charles McKenney, art and drama chairman, introduced Mr. Kunesh, who presented the group of talented students.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Kenneth Love, president, who announced that Mrs. William Gibson had been approved as a member of the club house board.

In the absence of Mrs. Karl Berry, civic chairman, Mrs. William Hurlbut, general program chairman, announced the next meeting will not be until Jan. 16, at which time Kermit Crawley, Stephens College, Columbia, will speak on "A Fortune to Share."

NEW YORK — Mrs. Hugh Ross shows her daughter Grace, 5, how to turn seashells into exquisite floral arrangements, which she makes in her New York apartment and then sells. Mrs. Ross, wife of a symphony conductor, has revived the art once popular with Victorians, and enlisted most of her family to help collect the tiny shells which form the blossoms. (UPI)

Los Angeles Is Called Most Vulgar

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Is Los Angeles the vulgarity capital of the world?

An Eastern magazine makes the claim in its current issue. Playwright William Inge said in reply: "Elizabethan England was very vulgar, but out of its vulgarity comes culture."

Inge made the remark as he and other transplanted New Yorkers met to announce the establishment of a Western outpost of the famed Actors Studio, the most influential force in American acting for the past decade and more.

Actors Studio-West was the brainchild of Paul Newman and director Jack Garfein, and they found immediate response from local graduates of the studio. the City of Los Angeles donated a headquarters for rent of $1 per year.

The nature of the place is ironic; it was formerly the home of William S. Hart, the stony-faced cowboy of silent films.

Garfein, who will act as executive director for the Western branch, said "There has been a tremendous influx here from New York of people in all crafts — acting, directing, writing, etc. Many are in Hollywood because they find work here. Others prefer to live here and fly to New York to read for a play; that's easy to do in the jet age.

"Many of these people have worked at the Actors Studio, and they discovered there is no place to develop their craft in California. After all, you don't grow as a performer when you are employed in soap operas, third-rate TV and B movies.

"This situation has caused an enormous waste of talent in this country. Actors are hanging around drugstores when they should be acting.

"The Actors Studio—West is designed to give actors a sense of continuity and purpose that they wouldn't have between assignments."

The new branch, which will be overseen by the New York studio's spiritual leader, Lee Strasberg, also will offer a workshop for playwrights, conducted by Inge. Plans include a 120-seat theater to be installed in what was once Bill Hart's garage.

Notice To The Public

Beginning Monday, December 5th the office of the City Collector will be open during the noon hour.

The office will also be open until noon on Saturday, December 10th, 17th and 31st for the Convenience of the taxpayers.

Rockefeller Lives In Slum Area

NEW YORK (AP) — Laurance Rockefeller took a seat in the steamy lunchroom in East Harlem's slums and ordered a 45-cent Whopperburger and a soda.

Later, he returned to his tenement over Juanita's beauty salon where he will live among the Puerto Ricans in the building.

For the next year, life in the slums will be the life of the 22-year-old scion of one of the world's wealthiest families.

He'll work seven days a week for $50 a month plus room and board and $2.50 a day pocket money because, as he puts it, "I want to help others help themselves."

Rockefeller is the son of Laurance S. Rockefeller, a noted conservationist, and the nephew of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. He was graduated from Harvard last June and spent the summer flying around the world in his private plane.

Young Rockefeller was among 10 persons from across the country who began an eight-week training program Monday to qualify for VISTA, which stands for Volunteers in Service to America.

It mean moving out of the family's swank Fifth Avenue residence into a world of Whopperburgers and apartment buildings festooned with fire escapes.

Part of Laurance's job will be to encourage residents to work in community activities and help them take advantage of city services.

On his first day, the discussion eventually got around to money and Laurance told newsmen: "As you might know, I have money of my own. But I don't plan to touch it while I'm working here. I don't see why $50 a month shouldn't be enough with rent and food taken care of."

The recruits also included Tweed Roosevelt, 24 - year - old great - grandson of President Theodore Roosevelt.

Rockefeller summed up his aspirations:

"Having an independent income gives me more freedom over the long span to devote myself to public service activities which I find more challenging than anything else.

"The type of (block) project struck me. You're living on the block and dealing with the whole problem of poverty. All the problems seem to go back to a common level — fear and desperation and hopelessness."

Christmas Dinner Given By BPW At Bothwell Hotel

The Business and Professional Women's Christmas dinner meeting combined both the religious and the gayness of the Christmas season Thursday night, Dec. 1, at Bothwell Hotel.

The meeting was opened by Miss Helen Giokaris, president, with invocation by Miss Emilie Brunjes. The group singing was led by Mrs. Dorothy Huddleston with Mrs. Ethel Pugh at the piano and consisted of Christmas songs.

The Smith-Cotton Madrigal Singers presented the special music, singing lovely Christmas songs as they wandered in and out around the tables.

In the center nook along the north wall of the Ambassador Room at the hotel Mrs. Mildred Bowman had created an unusually beautiful nativity scene with a background of dark blue encircled with the evergreen boughs, in front of which was the shed in which the Christ child was born, and exquisite nativity figures some about a foot high. The room was darkened and the scene spotlighted as Major Marjorie Weber read the inspiring legend of Francis of Assisi.

The story told of a wood-carver in Italy whose child had lost her eye-sight and of the bitterness against God of her father. He gave the child everything. Then came the young man to the village church. The mother kept her faith, though her husband forbid her to. Then one day a caravan came bringing many things, among which was a large piece of ivory. The father bought and carved the ivory into a doll for his daughter. When he went to get the doll it was gone from the shelf, and angered he went to the church. Inside was the manger, and in it the life like doll he had carved, beside it knelt his wife. And when Francis of Assisi came to him, and offered to give back the doll, all of the bitterness had gone, and not the blindness of the child, but his own, was healed. He left the doll in the manger and carved another for his child, and the legend is that this was the first nativity scene in a church. The tiny candles on the tables were then lighted and the group sang "Silent Night."

Miss Edna Mae Kirchhofer introduced the guests, Mrs. Dorothy Hieronymus, guest of Mrs. Mildred Bowman, and Mrs. Shirley Cooper, guest of Mrs. Nyra Price.

The names of the following members were voted on to be presented to the state for appointive offices: Mrs. Vivian Warren, Mrs. Jessie Goist, Mrs. Mary Kay Hunter and Miss Helen Giokaris.

Miss Georgia Giokaris told of the very successful state bowling tournament held here and of the Sedalia winners presenting the checks won by each.

Mrs. Gertrude Berlin told of the coffee she attended given by the Jaycee Wives for candidates for the outstanding young woman of the year, and introduced the candidate from the BPW, Mrs. Barbara Arnold.

Miss Sue Heckart presented the two new members, Mrs. Mary Anderson, sponsored by Miss Erna Ann McClure and Mrs. Vivian Warren, and Mrs. Ann Hall, sponsored by Miss Georgia Giokaris and Mrs. Jessie Goist.

Mrs. Eugenia Hayworth was chairman of the social part of the evening, with Miss Opal O'Briant as vice-chairman. Mrs. Hayworth asked all to stand, and as she read "The Night Before Christmas," each person as the word was called that was on piece of paper given them earlier, to sit down. The first table to be seated received the prize. There was also a prize given to the person finding a Christmas greeting on the bottom of their chair.

The gift exchange was a fun affair of passing the gifts around the room and then stopped suddenly to keep the gift they had in their hand at that time.

City Marshall Faces Charges Of Murder

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Mo. (AP)—Harold Gene McDaniel, 36, has been charged with second degree murder after shooting a man on McDaniel's first night as Mountain View marshal Saturday.

A coroner's jury ruled Monday that the shooting of Donald Eugene Colter, 20, was a felony.

McDaniel testified at the inquest that he stopped a car carrying Colter, his wife, Marie, 16, and John Schulz, 19. The marshal said the three were using obscene language.

The men got out of the car. McDaniel testified that he tried to push Colter back to the car with a .12-gauge shotgun.

"I was using the gun like a baton or night stick to push him, and it went off," he said.

A city official said McDaniel formerly was a policeman at Kansas City.

US Tourists Have Deep Dislikes

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — "Take us to a night spot where there won't be any Americans," said the visitor from the United States.

"That's right," said his wife, "Some place where we won't be falling all over Americans like we were in Paris, and Rome."

But, you and your husband are Americans.

"Of course we are, honey, but we see enough of them at home. When we're in London we want to see Britishers. You know, the swinging ones in their swinging places."

Told that in London it is very difficult to find a minus-American night spot, the husband replied with a resigned sigh: "If it's really like that, all right. But please, some place where there won't be too many."

Years ago someone said that there are few hatreds as intense as the hatred of one American tourist for another.

Generally, this is still true today.

Although Western Europe's night clubs were not specifically designed for the American tourist, many were certainly founded with the free-spending, big-tipping American visitor in mind.

Some notable exceptions are: Dolly's, Scotch of St. James, Blaise's, the Cromwellian, The In-Place, and re-opening soon, the Ad Lib.

Dolly's is big, packed, explosive, loud and very dark. So dark that you may find yourself sitting next to a member of the Rolling Stones and not even know it for. . .maybe a minute or two.

Here you find members of the new aristocracy, the disc jockeys, some pop musicians, photographers and racing drivers.

Blaise's is really crazy, man.

Here you can see a girl with a bare midriff dancing with a man wearing gloves. Gloves are in-things now. Blaise's even has a place for low-stake gambling.

The croupiers look like demure schoolgirls in their blouses and prim ties. Maybe they are, for strange things are happening in London 1966.

All these places have food, drink and music. They are clubs, and if you're not a member and British, there may be trouble getting in.

If you are an American, brandish your passport and you're as good as in. Understandably, there are membership fees.

The Ad Lib, which was originally situated next door to a church, is moving but its owner, John Kennedy, says that when its doors open in June, The Ad Lib's going to be so far out it's going to be in.

On its menu chicken is several forms is listed. A footnote reads: "served live if you prefer it but the feathers are hell on the tonsils, but very sexy with applesauce."

(Hal Boyle is ill).

May Seek New Attacks On Airfields

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U. S. Air Force leaders in Viet Nam probably will press anew for bombing of North Viet Nam's jet airfields because of the greatly increased activity by MIG jet fighters, sources indicated today.

Raiding American warplanes met North Vietnamese MIGs for the fourth straight day Monday.

A day earlier, U. S. pilots reported sighting 16 MIGs aloft. One senior Air Force officer said this was the biggest number in the skies in a long time.

American F105 Thunderchiefs knocked down one MIG17 for certain Sunday and probably downed another. This boosted the U. S. score to 26 definite kills and two probables. North Vietnamese pilots have shot down only five American planes.

Decision-making U. S. officials in Washington have ruled out any strikes against North Viet Nam's jet airfields, at least until now. They said there is no need to hit them until the North Vietnamese air force becomes a serious threat.

U. S. Air Force leaders believe it would be prudent to take out the jet fields. One source said the Air Force has repeatedly urged such action. The much increased activity of the North Vietnamese MIGs gives the air generals a new lever.

Despite persistent reports that the North Vietnamese air force has been beefed up substantially, American air officers say the Red force still numbers about 75 planes. They said combat losses have been replaced by the Russians or the Red Chinese.

Air Force generals said the North Vietnamese pilots are not very aggressive. They do not come out looking for a fight.

"The North Vietnamese pilots wait for a cripple — a sure kill," said one general.

"I think the enemy's got a lot of neophytes up there," he added.

But air officers have a profound respect for North Vietnamese antiaircraft gunners. They said they have improved vastly with the experience of nearly two years of U.S. bombing strikes.

The North Vietnamese have massed about 6,000 conventional antiaircraft guns — in the 37mm, 57mm, 85mm and 120mm classes — around key targets. Most are in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas.

Bid For Some Office Space In Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nearest thing to a national sweepstakes has been run on Capitol Hill and a long shot romped home.

The event was the biennial drawing among freshman members of the House of Representatives for office suites.

The slip marked "Number 1" entitling bearer to first choice went Monday to the newcomer who will bring up the rear of the alphabetical roll call in the new Congress, Rep.-elect John M. Zwach, R-Minn. He wasn't even there; an aide drew for him.

What Zwach won, however, was first choice among frankly bottom-drawer alternatives.

There were, however, enough two-room suites to accommodate Seniority rules almost everything in the House and before the freshmen even reached for their slips in the bowl all current members and all members returning after a break in service had picked their quarters for the next two years.

None of the 63 freshmen had a crack at a suite in the much-criticized but much-sought-after Rayburn Office Building. There members rate three rooms each, are under the same roof as such amenities as the House swimming pool and have a miniature subway to haul them to the Capitol.

date all the newcomers in the middle-aged but still handsome Longworth Office Building.

Twenty-eight suites were available in the Cannon Building, the oldest of the three House office buildings, and Zwach picked one of them. Half the Cannon building is closed for remodeling into three-room accommodations. There are expected to be prizes in future years, combining spaciousness with high ceilings and tradition.

A maze of status indexes and personal whims determines choice of office locations. Accessibility to one's committee rooms is an important plus. Corner suites are favorites.

Presby Women Hold Christmas Tea

The Women's Association of Broadway Presbyterian Church held its traditional Christmas tea Dec. 1, at 2 p. m. in the Westminster room.

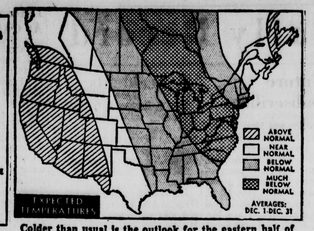

Candles and the glow from the wood-burning fireplace gave a festive setting for the Christmas story told by Mrs. Donald Callis.

Mrs. H. C. Johnson led the group in singing Christmas carols, accompanied by Mrs. Bruce Whittier.

Refreshments were served from the tea table presided by Mrs. Richard Parkhurst, the Association president.

Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over New England and the Pacific Northwest with subnormal totals likely in the Southwest and Mississippi Valley.

Colder than usual is the outlook for the eastern half of the nation while areas west of the Continental Divide should enjoy above-normal readings.

BOYS CLUB NOTES

A movie was shown at the club Wednesday evening by President John Brown. The film was entitled "Poised For Action," showing the value of physical fitness.

A wrestling tournament will be held starting Monday Dec. 12 Champions will be determined in various classes.

Attendance for November was up, with some 275 boys taking part in the club's activities.

In a well played basketball game Monday evening the Reds defeated the Blues by a score of 64-56.

In the pool tournament, Bill Finley continues his fine play on his way to the pool championship. Matches are underway in the bumper table division and small table division.

David Dennis has won the round-the-world division of basketball and will defend his title against any challenger.

The free-throw contest winner has not been determined although several boys have turned in good scores. Highest number of baskets in 25 attempts will determine the winner.

He was taken to the Bothwell Hospital in a Ewing ambulance and was treated by Dr. A. R. Maddox.

Roberson was admitted for observation.

Police investigated a two-car accident at 7:45 p.m. Monday on a parking lot at the State Far shopping center.

Involved were a 1964 Chevrolet, parked, owned by Peter Stohr, 500 West Fourth, and a 1960 Chevrolet, driven by Derald Barnard, 42, Sedalia Trailer Court.

Slight damage resulted to the Stohr vehicle.

Police report no injuries in a two-vehicle accident at 4:36 p.m. Tuesday at Broadway and Grand.

Involved were a 1960 Cadillac, driven by Grace Gunn, Route 5, and a 1966 Cadillac, driven by Beulah Sartin, Clinton.

Slight damage occured to the left front of the Gunn car. Damage was to the right front side of the Sartin car.

Cecil Ravenscraft, 919 South Ohio, reported to police Tuesday that approximately $25 damage had been done to a fence at his home. Police reported a car apparently backed into the fence. Ravenscraft stated the damage was incurred sometime Sunday.

A large International tractor-trailer loaded with 32,900 pounds of swinging beef, was overturned on North U. S. Highway 65 about eight miles north of Sedalia about 9:40 p.m. Tuesday. Several thousand dollars damages resulted to the tractor and trailer.

The unit was driven and owned by Kenneth Deicke, 36, Miami, Fla., who was hauling the meat from Kansas to Florida. Deicke escaped injury as the tractor rolled over on its side.

State Trooper Pete Stohr and Trooper Charles Pieper of the Highway Patrol investigated the accident. According to their report, Deicke was headed north to go to I-70 and at a gravel road which leads to the Durley farm, he noticed two cars coming from the north over a rise in the road side-by-side, and he pulled to the right on to the shoulder.

The shoulder was soft due to the rain and the unit skidded and rolled over on its side partially blocking the gravel roadway. The large trailer buckled and the tractor was damaged as it rolled.

Since the trailer was refrigerated, it was necessary to call for another unit to come to the scene and unload the meat so wreckers could right the tractor and trailer and pull it on in to Sedalia.

The driver of a 1964 Ford coach which skidded off of State Route 135 about two miles north of U. S. Highway 50 about 1:30 a.m. Wednesday escaped injury. Slight damage resulted to the automobile as it went off the roadway into an embankment made soft by the rain.

Miss Elizabeth Sprattley, 19, who is employed at the Steam-O-Matic was enroute to her home at the time. She reported as she was driving along some cattle strayed out on the roadway and in pulling to the right to miss them, the car left the pavement.

The car was pulled from the embankment by Parks wrecker.

Trooper Pete Stohr of the State Highway Patrol, investigated the accident.

Occupants of two vehicles which were in collision on U.S. Highway 50 in front of the Fowler Salvage Yard, near the top of the east Muddy Hill, escaped injury. The accident occurred about 5:26 p.m. Tuesday.

Involved were a 1960 Ford sedan driven by William Walker, 201 East 24th, who was pulling out of the driveway of the salvage company, and a 1963 Dodge coach driven by Mrs. Anna Mae Sullivan, 38, LaMonte, who was headed west on the highway.

Trooper Pete Stohr and Trooper Charles Pieper of the State Patrol investigated the accident. The Patrol reported Mrs. Sullivan pulled to the right in an endeavor to miss the Walker car, but the left front of her car collided with the left rear of Walker's car. The car went off the highway but she kept it under control and brought it back up on the pavement.

Estimate

that he would not speculate whether the new Viet Nam cost estimate plus results of the business investment survey would make a tax hike more or less likely.

"People might get the wrong impression," he asserted.

Although Treasury and Budget Bureau officials earlier had recommended announcement of a tax decision by about Dec. 10, the chief executive gave no indication he'll tip his hand that soon.

Actually, the question has been up in the air for nearly 10 months.

The new money request for Viet Nam will boost the defense budget to between $67 billion and $68 billion for the 1967 fiscal year that began July 1. That compares with a budget estimate last January of $58.5 billion.

How much of the defense total is being spent on the war, no one will say.

Johnson made his announcement after devoting much of the day to conferences with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

They talked not only about fiscal '67 outlays but also of the new defense budget for the following bookkeeping year, that will go to Congress next month.

Johnson told newsmen "we made substantial progress" at the meetings. But he said "there are a few specific items that are yet to be resolved" — issues on which McNamara and one or more of the Joint Chiefs disagree. He indicated the size of the new defense budget probably will not be fixed until next month.

Optimists See Film On Industry

Bill Hall was the speaker at Optimist Club Tuesday noon at State Fair Restaurant and presented a film titled "The Best Investment We Ever Made," which was narrated by Arthur Godfrey.

The film was about the investment made by Dillon, S. C., a town of 6,000 people where business men of the community realized that if they were to attract industry and to grow they must have an adequate airport. This was a $100,000 project, half of that sum came from federal funds, and a fourth from state funds, leaving the town only $25,000.

This had been a farming community, but with the modern farming methods there was not so much work for all and there was a need to attract industry in order to have payrolls. The town of Dillon had much to offer, one of the men said, good rail service, good roads, plenty of sites, and the biggest asset of all, its people who were proud of the town, both young and old. They thought Dillon was something special.

The one thing they needed was an airport and this they went about to get. With the new airport came industries that, for the past ten years, have been starting plants in small communities. With it, also, came new sources of taxes, and jobs which cut down on welfare, and the airport brought business to the town and advantages in recreation.

Dillon citizens firmly believe that the airport was the best investment they ever made.

Hall pointed out that Sedalia, too, is making strides in providing an adequate airport, which he, as industrial development director, feels is the most valuable asset a town can have to attract industry.

Also, Hall congratulated the Optimist Club on sponsoring the Crime Alert program in Sedalia.

The speaker was introduced by Lee Deason, program chairman.

R. L. Settles, president, presided over the meeting and invocation was by Deason.

Settles asked for volunteers to work on the Christmas tree lot. This is a project through which the Sedalia Noon Optimist Club has, for a number of years, raised money to carry on its Boys Work program.

Guests introduced were Morris K. Byrum, vice-principal of Smith-Cotton High School, guest of Lee Deason, and Larry Cramer, guest of his father, Truman Cramer.

'An Evening Of Musical Excellence'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Great music by large orchestras and fine dancing by corps de ballet often, by their very size, fit poorly into the small television screens.

By adroit setting and skillful but unobtrusive camera work, the problem was almost entirely overcome Tuesday night in CBS handsome tribute to, impressario Sol Hurok.

The Russian-born Hurok, who was seen on camera a few times but not heard during "S. Hurok Presents," was well represented by some of the great stars who have performed under his aegis.

Marian Anderson introduced the talent and narrated movingly the words in Aaron Copland's "Lincoln Portrait." She spoke of a cultural exchange of artists, saying that Hurok "has done more for it than anyone."

The program consisted of performances by the international artists who have been important in the exchange. Antonio and the Ballets de Madrid performed in castenet-clacking, foot-stamping numbers. Isaac Stern played Mozart. Van Cliburn's contribution was a Rachmaninoff concerto. Andres Segovia's guitar solo was by Villa-Lobos. Two portions of the program were turned over to the Bolshoi Ballet.

When the soloists were playing the camera moved forward, sometimes concentrating on the faces of the artists and then lingering in closeup on the hands of the instrumentalists and the feet of the dancers. The only real "production" surrounded the Copland number and that was a series of Lincoln pictures on the screen against the background of Alfred Wallenstein and the orchestra's music.

It was, as promised, "an evening of musical excellence," and an impressive way of honoring a man who has done so much for music.

CBS' "Family Affair," one of the few successes of the new season, suffered a blow Tuesday. Sebastian Cabot, the bearded, rotund actor who is so important as the gentleman's gentleman in the series, was hospitalized and a temporary replacement must be found.

A representative of the series said that Cabot is suffering from an ulcer and will be unable to work for several weeks. Several performers are under consideration, but it is thought that John Williams will be chosen to fill the vacancy.

Expect Primary Battle

SIKESTON, Mo. (AP) — A wide open 1968 primary battle is expected in southeastern Missouri's 10th congressional district when Democrats vote to select a successor for Rep. Paul C. Jones, who announced Tuesday he will not be a candidate for re-election.

Jones, who has served in Congress since 1948, announced at a meeting in Sikeston that he decided not to run again for "general" reasons. The meeting was attended by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

The veteran conservative Democrat said he would not try to name his successor in the heavily - Democratic district where a primary victory is nearly tantamount to election.

Damage Suit Against Contractors

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A $4,740,951 damage suit was on file in U.S. District Court today against a dozen oil companies which were alleged to have cost three road paving contractors more than $1.5 million in liquid asphalt prices.

The lawsuit was filed Tuesday by Metropolitan Paving Co., Oklahoma City; Standard Industries, Inc., Tulsa and Tecon Paving Co., Dallas.

Accused of fixing asphalt prices to the three firms and with conspiring to rig the prices since 1948 were:

Skelly Oil Co., Allied Materials Corp., Bell Oil & Gas Co., Champlin Petroleum Co., Texaco, Inc., the Texas Co., Mobil Oil Corp., Sunray DX Oil Co., Monarch Refineries Inc., Wilshire Oil Co. of Texas, Inland Asphalt Inc., and Riffe Petroleum Corp.

Eight oil companies have been accused by the state attorney general with fixing asphalt prices in Oklahoma. He sued them for $21 million.

Inland, Sunray DX, Riffe and Monarch were named in both suits.

The plaintiffs in Tuesday's action asked triple damages. Metropolitan claimed actual damages of $913,008; Standard Industries $654,009 and Tecon $13,300.

The suit contends a conspiracy existed among the 12 oil firms since 1948 and that it remained a secret until Oct. 4, 1965.

Some Hall-of-Famers

Football Heroes Compare Today's Teams To Past

NEW YORK (AP) — There were about 100 people in the room and most of them were football heroes of the first order. Fifty of them were members of the Hall of Fame.

There were Jay Berwanger and Dick Kazmaier and Duffy Daugherty and Ara Parseghian and Pappy Waldorf and Jim Crowley and Pete Pihos and Charley Conerly and Capt. Bill Carpenter and Red Blaik and you name him.

And there were Lt. Col. Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis. Somehow it wasn't too surprising that they drifted together in a small corner of the crowded room, and, somehow, it wasn't too surprising to find them talking football.

It was 20 years after their halcyon seasons and they were talking about the football teams of today vs. the greats — notable their Army team — of two decades ago.

"Today's teams are bigger, stronger, faster than we were," said Davis, now director of special events for the Los Angeles Times and, 20 years ago, the Mr. Outside of the inside-outside combination that has never been equalled.

"I don't want to run against the Michigan States and the Notre Dames of today."

"The big difference between our teams and the teams today is the pass," said Blanchard, an Air Force officer. "We didn't throw as much and we didn't throw as well as they do.

"And there's the two-platoon difference. We played both ways. Now, they play one way. But, man for man, I'd match our teams against the best today.

"I'd run against them." And there was a big grin. "I don't know how well I'd do, but I'd run against them."

The two were on hand for the annual Awards Dinner of the Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Tuesday night at a midtown hotel. Col. Earl (Red) Blaik was the honored guest and the recipient of the group's Gold Medal Award for lengthy and meritorius service to the game.

Capt. Bill Carpenter, Army's famed Lonely End of the late '50s and now a Viet Nam hero, received the Distinguished American Award. Ten men were inducted into the Hall of Fame, the MacArthur Bowl was awarded jointly to Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State and Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame and eight young football players were awarded scholar-athlete awards.

New Hall of Fame members are Charley Conerly of Mississippi, Jim Crowley and Rip Miller of Notre Dame, Norm Van Brocklin of Oregon, Dick Kazmaier of Princeton, the late Albie Booth of Yale, Aaron Rosenberg of Southern California, Chuck Carney of Illinois, Pete Pihos of Indiana and Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf of Northwestern and California.

The scholar-athletes honored were Jim Lynch of Notre Dame, Charles Peters of Princeton, Bobby Etter of Georgia, William Powell of Missouri, Allen Richards of Texas Christian, Mike Ryan of Washington, Tom Allen of Bowdoin and Stanley Juk of South Carolina.

Pro Baseball Rule Lauded By Coaches

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Big Eight baseball coaches are overjoyed with pro baseball's new rule prohibiting the signing of college players until the age of 21. They predict a new growth in the college game.

Only exceptions are hardship cases and athletes who drop out of school for more than 120 days for scholastic difficulty. In effect, the new rule protects the coach's players at least through their junior year, a few cases through the senior yeear.

Under the present rule which ends Jan. 1 college players could be signed after completing their sophomore year. The coaches are here for their annual winter meeting. Here are their comments:

Chet Bryant, Oklahoma State's defending champs—"I'm tickled to death. It'll be wonderful to have our players that extra year..."

John (Hi) Simmons, Missouri, president of National Association of College Baseball Coaches: "This shows definite cooperation by pro clubs to help a college coach and his program. This could cause the greatest boom college baseball has ever known."

Floyd Temple, Kansas—"We fought for it for a number of years..It will improve the caliber of baseball, also relieve some tensions."

Capp Timm, Iowa State — "It's a step in the right direction. The majors will be getting more talent from the colleges all the time, and the talent will be better."

Bob Brasher, Kansas State, a former pro scout—"I'm pleased ..It'll help the kids going into pro ball too. They'll be more mature."

Tony Sharpe, Nebraska — "It's still not all we could hope for, but we're appreciative of anything we can get."

Frank Prentup, Colorado — "The boys will get as much baseball education as they would in the minors."

Jack Baer, Oklahoma, a frequent victim of pro signings — "It's what we've been looking for a long time. It will also help other sports that have been hurt when a boy who plays more than one sport signs a pro baseball contract."

The coaches picked Missouri to win the 1967 title in an informal poll, followed by OSU, Oklahoma, K-State, Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa State and Kansas.

Furor Over Title Arises At Matches

The North American Tag championship belts were denied the title holders, Tuesday night, when Bob Giegel and Bob Brown apparently purposely disqualified themselves to keep a hold on the belts. Instead of winning the match the honors went to The Ox and The Viking when Giegel was disqualified. Referee Richard Moody declared no contest and the belts would be held in abeyance until they could clearly win them without disqualification.

It stirred up a storm of protest from both Giegel and Brown, but to no avail and Gust Karras, promoter-matchmaker, declared the referee's decision was correct. The Viking had been purposely thrown from the ring to the floor and the disqualification was declared. When Viking regained himself and during the rampage in the ring, The Ox grabbed Brown, Viking took Giegel and they jammed their heads together.

Brown at one point made a grab for Karras, but the Auxiliary Police broke that up.

In the first fall Viking beat Giegel in 13 minutes and four seconds with a series of chops and press. Brown came gack to beat The Ox after he and Giegel had worked him over fairly well. This took five minutes and 40 seconds. The final fall went to Viking and Ox on the disqualification after five minutes and 10 seconds.

The blood was running hot between Brown and The Ox who had met in a one-fall 15 minute time limit event with Ox taking it with a trip off the ropes and a press in 10 minutes flat.

Lee "Bulldog" Henning won a special one fall 20-minute time limit match with Richard Murdock in nine minutes and 40 seconds. Body slams and a press were used by Henning.

In the semi-final event Rick Hunter was the winner over Handsome Jack Donovan of Hollywood, Calif., after one of the rough events of the early matches on the card. Donovan took the first fall in eight minutes and 45 seconds when he used a thumb jab and followed with a press. The second fall went to Hunter in three minutes and 55 seconds when he applied the shortarm barrel roll and press. In the third period Donovan was constantly warned about his tactics and it ended with him being disqualified after five minutes and 40 seconds, giving the match to Hunter.

After the matches Tuesday night Karras was not sure if he would match the team-tag event again or not, depending on the contestants themselves as to whether they desired to sign to battle it out in Sedalia. Karras said regardless of the outcome he would have a terrific card for next Tuesday night.

Stover Wins Game With Lincoln

Stover defeated Lincoln in a close contest played in Stover Tuesday night, 53-52. This was the eighth victory for Stover in ten starts.

The game was a close one all the way with the score being tied at half time, 21-21. Lincoln was ahead at the end of the third quarter 38-37. But Stover was able to outscore them in the final quarter by two points to edge Lincoln out.

Leading the way for Stover were Merl Wilson with 19 points and Steve Roland with 16. For Lincoln, Don Brandsgaard had 16 and Terry McCain had 13.

The next game for Stover is Friday night against Green Ridge in a conference match.

Score by quarters:

Stover	9	12	16	16—53
Lincoln	12	9	17	14—52

In the B team game it was Stover 34 and Lincoln 28. High scorer for Stover was Eddings with 14 points. High for Lincoln was Kriesel with 13.

In the volleyball game it was Stover 34 and Lincoln 28. This was the ninth straight victory for Stover without a loss.

One Basket Rim Claimed To Be Higher

NEW YORK(AP) — The rim on one of the baskets at Madison Square Garden is higher than it is on the other one.

The authority for that statement is San Francisco's hot-shooting Rick Barry and the way he was popping baskets through both hoops Tuesday night, he ought to know.

Barry, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer, drilled 47 points home, leading San Francisco to a 126-116 victory over the New York Knickerbockers in the second game of an NBA doubleheader.

In the opener, Boston finally snapped its Detroit hex, ripping the Pistons 130-111 and breaking a three-game losing streak against them. In the only other NBA game played, Philadelphia defeated Chicago 129-119.

Barry scored 22 points in the first half, 20 of them on field goals, as the Warriors raced to 71-55 lead. He made only four field goals in the second half, mostly because of repeated fouling by New York and those different rims.

"The baskets we were shooting at in the first half had a higher rim and I was arching my shots to score," Barry said. "After we changed in the second half, I didn't compensate for the other basket, which has a lower rim.

"I was getting my position and my shots and there were times when I was sure my shots were going in but they'd just rim the basket and fall away."

Barry spent most of the third period at the foul line, sinking 14 of 15 attempts, a Madison Square Garden record.

Bill Russell played all but five minutes of Boston's first game victory over Detroit. It ended a three-game drought for the Celtics against the Pistons and Russell pointed to Sam Jones as the man who made the difference.

Jones, nursing a sore left hand, came off the bench and scored 23 points for Boston.

Philadelphia playing at home, got 31 points from Chamberlain and 21 from Chet Walker for its 23rd victory in 25 starts. It was the seventh straight victory for the 76ers who lead Boston in the Eastern Division by 4½ games.

Hal Greer had 20 for Philadelphia and became the 16th player in NBA history to pass the 12,000-point plateau. Keith Erickson led Chicago with 28.

S-C Junior High Squads Open Season

The Smith-Cotton High School Junior High Basketball squads open their 1966-67 basketball season Thursday when they host the Knob Noster eighth and ninth grade cagers in the Smith-Cotton gymnasium. The eighth grade game will begin at 6:15 p.m. with the freshman game immediately following.

Freshman coaches Wes Sanders and Fred Long predict a really tough ball game. Last year as eighth graders, these same boys were defeated by the Panther five and they are out for a victory this year.

"We have ten boys to pick from," indicated Sanders, "and our probable starting five will include Dennis Johnson, Steve Eck, Bob Logan ,Lester Boggs or Jim Lewis, and Bill Parker or Bob Deal."

The eighth grade cagers of coaches Foster McGuire and Dick Rees open their Smith-Cotton basketball careers in the first game and are hoping for a win. McGuire stated that the starting lineup will probably include Chip Thompson, David Van Dyne, Steve Gerlecz, Bill Raumaker and Steve Holmes. Others who will possibly see their first S-C action will be Calvin Marshall, David Dennis, David Arnest and Wyatt Jackson.

S-C Varsity Cagers To Kansas City

The Smith-Cotton varsity cagers travel to Kansas City Friday to play Manual High School in the Tigers' fifth game of the 1966-'67 season. The game will begin at 7 p.m. in Southwest Fieldhouse.

According to Bengal head coach Paul Schwartz, Friday's game should be a very fine one, and Smith-Cotton's squad is working hard to improve its shooting. Schwartz commented that S-C's win last week over the California Pintos 47-46 was "too close for comfort." "Our team defense is really good," Schwartz indicated, "but our offense needs more punch."

Schwartz stated that the probable starting five will probably be the same as in the California game, which included seniors Larry Bell, Jim Whitney, David Rotermund, Dick Postels, and junior, George Williams.

So far this season, the Tigers stand at 2-2, having defeated Fayette and California and having lost two close ones to Columbia Hickman and Moberly. During Thanksgiving week they captured fourth place in the Boonville Turkey Tournament.

Pittsburg Posts First Cage Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pittsburg State posted its first basketball victory of the season Tuesday night, defeating Maryville State 65-59.

The Kansans jumped to a 10-point lead and held a 35-27 margin at halftime. Al Van Dyk was high for the Missourians with 21 points and Dave Nigsch led Pittsburg with 19. Pittsburg is 1-2 and Maryville 2-2.

Rockhurst chalked up 41 consecutive free throws in a 94-83 victory over Emporia State. Ed McKee poured in 33 points for the winners, followed by Jim Healeh's 26. Emporia's 6-10 pivot, Carl Frantz, counted 19, and Dave Mossman turned in 18.

The victory ended a two-game skid for Rockhurst and it was the third straight loss for Emporia State.

Three games were played in the Kansas Conference. Sterling beat Friends 98-61, College of Emporia defeated Southwestern 80-72 and Ottawa edged Bethany 73-71.

Bill Linhart scored 25 points for C. of E. in defense of its conference title. Bob Jackson led Southwestern with 21. C. of E. is 3-1 for all games this season, Southwestern 0-4.

Sterling's victory was led by Jim Mosher and Gene Pflughoft, each with 17 points. Dennis Schroeder scored 18 for Friends. Sterling, now 1-1 in league play, is 1-3 overall. Friends is 0-1 and 0-3.

Ottawa opened the scoring and was never headed, although Bethany tied it at 66-66 and 68-68. Ottawa took over at 71-70 and froze the pace at that point, adding two free throws in the last minute. Tony Verdi scored 21 points for Ottawa. Dale Gorsky led Bethany with 20. Ottawa is 1-3 for the season, Bethany 0-3.

In other games Phillips of Oklahoma beat Tabor 61-53, Tarkio defeated Dana, Neb. 89-71, Culver-Stockton decisions Iowa Wesleyan 93-89, Central Methodist defeated Park 98-79 and Fort Hays State trounced Kearney State of Nebraska 96-79.

Skip Shear scored 42 points to lead undefeated Tarkio. He carries a 36-point average, hit 17 of 22 from the field and added 8 of 10 from the free throw line. Tarkio is 4-0, Dana 2-3. Tom Kalchik led Dana with 19.

Tabor, in losing to Phillips, went the first 9½ minutes without a point. Silas King of Phillips led the scoring with 22 points. Ron Regier and Dan Bower of Tabor each scored 17.

Central Methodist broke a 44-44 halftime deadlock to race to its victory over Park. High scorers were Fran McKinzie of Central and Rich Melendez of Parke, each with 31 points.

Culver-Stockton and Iowa Wesleyan were tied five times in the final half before the game was put on ice by Culver-Stockton's Russ Ward, who got three points after being fouled on a layup. Gary Ulrich led Culver-Stockton, now 2-1, with 25 points. Iowa Wesleyan is 0-4.

Louisville Gives MVC Teams Edge

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fourth-ranked Louisville gave Missouri Valley basketball teams a 2-1 edge Tuesday night with another lopsided victory as four starters scored from 18 to 21 points. Rookie Butch Beard again was the leader.

The 6-foot-3 Beard is averaging 24 points for two games, second in the Valley only to Joe Allen of Bradley at 29.5.

North Texas made its record 2-1 with a surprisingly easy 91-62 romp over South Dakota State at Denton. Rubin Russell, champ for league games only, the defending Valley scoring champ for league games only, hit 25 points, raising his season average to 21. Sophomore Bill Cutter hit all eight field shots to get 16 for NTS. South Dakota State forced Oklahoma State into overtime.

Drake, now 2-1, took its first defeat, 71-68 in overtime at Minnesota, despite 25 points from Willie McCarter, talented 6-3 sophomore. His season average is 19 points.

Valley teams have a 13-4 won-lost record against outside teams. Murray State plays at Bradley and Southern Illinois at St. Louis tonight.

Westley Unseld and Fred Holden fired 18 points apiece in Louisville's 107-68 romp over Southwestern Louisiana at Louisville.

Fourteen Valley players are averaging over 15 points a game. Bradley has Allen and L. C. Bowen at 19.5. Cincinnati has John Howard at 23.5 and Mike Rolf 15.0. St. Louis has Rich Niemann 21.5 and Bob Cole 21.0, Tulsa has Bob Washington 19.5 and Eldridge Webb 15.5 and Russell is moving at a 21.0 pace for North Texas. Drake's pair is Bowen at 19.5 and 6-9 Bob Netolicky at 17.7 after making only 10 at Minnesota.

Louisville is the only club with three — Beard, Unseld 21.5 and Holden 18.5.

Tipton Is Defeated For Second Time

The Tipton Cardinals were handed their second defeat of the season Tuesday night as they were out-foxed by Jefferson City Helias, 67-45, in a non-loop tangle at Tipton.

Tipton's start looked as if they might gain the victory and they continued to hold the edge at the half. In the second half, Helias came on strong and easily outscored the Cardinals in both quarters.

Eric Thompson led the Jefferson City aggregation to victory with 17 hits on six field goals and five charity tosses. Leading scorer for Tipton was Dave Bixler, who had nine points on three field goals and three free throws.

In the "B" contest, Tipton managed a win over Helias, 28-26. Berry Schaffter had 12 for Tipton to lead the scoring. High for Helias was Osharer with five.

Tipton will play School of the Osage in a Tri-County Conference contest Friday night.

Parseghian Is Proud Of His Squad

SOUTH BEND, Ind., (AP) — "We're proud and happy to be proclaimed national football champion, but that was our target from the start," said Coach Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame.

"I am particularly proud of this best team I ever coached and one I will cherish always because of its tremendous finish under a terrific injury handicap," said the 43-year-old Parseghian in the shining hour of his 16-season career as a head college coach.

In only his third Notre Dame season, Parseghian has produced the first Irisn national title since Frank Leahy directed the 1949 club to a No. 1 finish in the AP's poll with a perfect 10-0 record.

This year, Parseghian's superb blend of brilliant sophomores and bristling seniors won nine games, muscling six shutouts—most by the Irish in 34 seasons—and played a classic 10-10 tie with Big Ten champion Michigan State.

That matched the last undefeated, but once-tied Irish campaign 13 years ago, a 9-0-1 record by Leahy's swan song team of 1953 which played a memorable 14-14 tie with Iowa.

The deadlock with Iowa was almost as controversial, for entirely different reasons, as the Irish-Michigan State standoff of the decade Nov. 19 at East Lansing, Mich.

Hawkeye partisans contended Notre Dame's feigned injury tactics, as each half neared an end, stopped the clock permitting last-second Irish touchdown passes for the 14-14 tie.

For Parseghian at East Lansing, Mich., before a national television audience, one of college football's most tense, hard-hitting games ended with widespread criticism because the Irish ran out the clock in the closing 90 seconds with six straight ground plays near midfield.

Parseghian, even though elated over capturing the national title, has flared back at critics who contended the Irish should have gone down firing the long bomb in an effort for victory over Michigan State.

"Let's review the situation for those people clamoring for a big Notre Dame gamble," said Parseghian, now owning a remarkable three-season Irish record of 25-3-2, mainly with inherited personnel.

"Much was made of Michigan State's fourth down gamble with six inches to go which succeeded on State's 30 in what proved their last series of the game.

"But what about our gamble, with fourth and one on our 39, on the third from last play of the game? Those many critics don't even mention that the two-yard sneak for first down by Coley O'Brien, all 173 pounds of this great little replacement for injured Terry Hanratty, might have been the biggest gamble of our season.

"If Michigan State takes over, possibly within our 40, they can shoot at least for a field goal by their great kicker, Dick Kenney. Then the howl against us would be even louder than what we did on the last two plays, a pass-run option by O'Brien which lost seven yards and a five-yard sneak by O'Brien from our own 34.

"This is very much a game of percentages, and a 66-yard desperation pass on the last play of such a terrific game is a foolish gamble when you are risking a superb comeback from a 10-0 deficit under adverse conditions."

Batman Holds The Balance Of Power

GAINESVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Batman, television's caped crusader, holds the balance of power in a City Commission race, all because some joker put his name on a write-in ballot.

Amazed officials counted the votes in an election Tuesday for a city commissioner three times and each time got the same result.

Candidates Howard James and Joseph Stargel each received 674 votes and there was one write-in vote for Batman. The votes were made official.

City Atty. William A. Guner said he will have to do some extensive research to find an answer to the problem. Gainesville has never had a tie election before and the city's election machinery makes no provision for a runoff.

Butch Makes Solid Debut In College

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lew Alcindor of UCLA isn't the only sophomore in college basketball to make an impressive varsity debut. There's also Butch Beard at the University of Louisville.

Beard's debut Saturday night was overshadowed by Alcindor's 56 points as the top-ranked Bruins crushed Southern California 105-90. Beard got 27 as Louisville defeated Georgetown, Ky., 99-81.

Bearl, 6-foot-3 and weighing 175 pounds, had the stage all to himself Tuesday night with UCLA and Alcindor awaiting the weekend invasion of the Duke Blue Devils. The soph from Hardinsburg, Ky., demonstrated his opening night performance was no fluke with another sparkling home court effort.

He tossed in 21 points to again top the Louisville scoring as the Cardinals, fourth-ranked Nationally to UCLA in The Associated Press poll, whipped Southwestern Louisiana 107-68.

Texas Western, the defending national champions and No. 2 in the AP poll, made it three in a row with an easy 61-30 conquest of East Texas State at El Paso. The Miners played without their star, Bobby Joe Hill, who was suspended indefinitely before the game for disciplinary reasons. Coach Don Haskins termed the suspension "temporary."

Wake Forest nipped Virginia Tech 78-75 and Minnesota edged Drake 71-68 in two home court overtime triumphs while on the road Dayton downed Miami of Ohio 80-71 and Princeton beat Villanova 48-37.

Abe Aikins' three-point play in the last 34 seconds gave Hofstra a 71-69 home court victory over Seton Hall. Tom Ringlemann came off the bench and scored three quick baskets to spark Syracuse over Cornell 99-67 in another home court triumph.

In other leading games, all home court victories, San Francisco beat Hardin Simmons 72-61, Southern Methodist edged Oklahoma City 81-78, Baylor downed Centenary 91-73, Auburn overcame Louisiana Tech 88-77, Davidson defeated Furman 84-71, George Washington whipped Richmond 78-68 and New Orleans Loyola rolled over Texas Christian 91-75.

On the road, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia edged Georgetown, D.C., 86-82 and Texas routed Louisiana State 114-78.

Top Season For Besting Old Records

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Eight conference football players broke a record for breaking records this fall. A total of 24 team and individual marks were smashed or tied, most of them in passing and pass receiving.

Iowa State passer Tim Van Galder and his favorite target, split end Eppie Barney, harvested most of the new marks, with Bob Churchich of Nebraska next.

Most noteworthy of the new team marks were Oklahoma's .559 pass completion percentage and Nebraska's .542, shattering the old mark of .521 by Colorado in 1964. In addition, Iowa State had .503 and Kansas .500.

Nebraska broke the single-game accuracy mark of .739 by Kansas in 1938 with its .786 on 11-for-14 against Wisconsin.

Churchich broke his own one-game accuracy mark with .769 on 10 of 13 and increased his career figure to .532. A hot game in the Sugar Bowl against Alabama could boost him over the league record of .535 by Ralph Miller of Kansas in 1938-39-41.

Van Galder took over the passing records for most attempts in a season at 245, and career at 579; most completions in a game at 25, season at 124 and career at 260; most yards in a season at 1,645 and career at 3,451; and most total offense in a game at 360 and season at 1,749.

Barney picked up the most receptions in a game at 11, season at 56 and career at 97. Teammate Larry Carwell set another with 123 yards of interception returns against Kansas.

Larry Wachholtz of Nebraska had 133 yards in punt returns against Utah State, breaking his own league mark. Oklahoma's Mike Vachon kicked four field goals against Texas for another Big Eight mark.

Both Barney with 782 and K-State's Dave Jones with 721 broke the old mark for pass receiving yardage in one season.

Iowa State set a team mark with 127 completions and broke the mark for kickoff return yardage at 939, led by Tom Busch's league-leading 484. His 26.9 average also was best.

Other statistical champions were K-State's Cornelius Davis with 1,028 yards rushing; David Morgan of Kansas in punting at 42.4; Wachholtz in interceptions with 7 for 73 and in punt return yardage, 299 on 29; and Wilmer Cooks of Colorado in scoring with 60 points.

Runners - up, in addition to Jones, were Don Shanklin of Kansas, 732 rushing and 387 in kickoff return yardage; Churchic 1,136 passing; Bob Warmack of Oklahoma 1,178 total offense; Jim Whitaker of Missouri, 6 interceptions for 113 yards; Eddie Hinto of Oklahoma, 233 yards in punt returns with a 29.1 average—best in the league; Dick Anderson of Colorado, 42.2 punting average and Busch with 52 points.

Brooke May Get Spot On Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A switch by Sen. Jacob K. Javits may open a place for the nation's first popularly elected Negro senator to serve on a Senate committee headed by an all-out segregationist.

Javits is reported to have the inside track for a Republican vacancy on the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee. The New Yorker served briefly on this group in 1962 but was dumped from membership when Democrats increased their senatorial margin in 1962.

If senators with greater seniority step aside as expected, Javits will get the Appropriations assignment and give up his post on the Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss. This may open the way for Sen.-elect Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., a Negro, to get on Eastland's committee.

Brooke, who visited Washington briefly to interview prospective staff members, said he would be happy to get such an assignment.

Javits was represented as reluctant to leave the Judiciary Committee, where he has been an outstanding advocate of civil rights.

But he is up for re-election in 1968 — if he doesn't land a vice presidential nomination — and an Appropriations Committee spot would give him an opportunity to show what he can do for New York in the field of federal allotments.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican leader, said recently that he will demand that each of five new Republican senators be given places on at least two major committees.

He said he has not discussed with Sen. Mike Mansfield, the Democratic leader, a change in party ratio on committees. Republicans gained three seats but Democrats still control the new Senate 64-36.

The Republicans permit no member to serve on more than one of four specified committees — Appropriations, Finance, Foreign Relations and Armed Services. This works toward giving freshmen Republicans better assignments than they otherwise would have.

Testimony Begins In Missouri Murder Trial

JACKSON, Mo. (AP)—Testimony was set to begin today in the murder trial of Tommy Lee Thompson, 18, charged with the sniper-like murder of a Sikeston housewife as she worked in her kitchen last February.

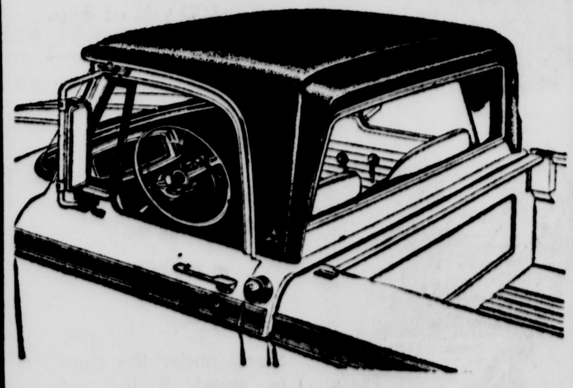

Thompson, also of Sikeston, is charged with the murder of Mrs. W. R. Lewis, 58. Police said a shot from a .30-.30 caliber rifle was fired through the woman's kitchen window.

A jury of 10 men and two women was selected Tuesday night in the court of Circuit Judge W. Osler Statler. The judge ruled the youth's alleged confession inadmissible because adequate evidence was not given showing Thompson was advised by police of his right to counsel during interrogation.

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — A good part of the Kennedy clan — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy D-N.Y., his family, Mrs. John F. Kennedy, her children, and Patricia Lawford, sister of the senator and the late president — are expected to spend the Christmas holidays skiing at Sun Valley, Idaho.

The senator's office confirmed Monday that he and his wife's family and Mrs. Kennedy and her two children, Caroline and John Jr., have reservations, but said the exact dates are not known.

In New York, it was disclosed that Jacqueline Kennedy appeared at a restaurant for lunch wearing a skirt that ended three inches above mid-knee.

Although the skirt was not quite mini, "it was the shortest we've seen her in," said Dick Atkins, an executive of Women's Wear Daily, a fashion trade publication.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — "I would strongly advise replacing me with a man," says the woman who may be the only one in the country to serve as executive head of a police organization.

Mary Freeman Ross, executive director of the Buckeye State Sheriffs Association, who is stepping down from her post next year after 33 years with the organization, said, "I don't think a man's organization should be headed by a woman."

Mrs. Ross, one of the best known lobbyists in the state legislature, said she joined the organization "at the request of my father to help out a friend. Somehow, I just never left."

NEW YORK (AP) — "Oh, by the way, we sail at midnight," said U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Arthur J. Goldberg to his 250 special guests at shipboard party Monday night.

It was a joke, of course, but it made the host the hit of his own affair. The ambassador had invited 250 foreign ministers, heads of U.N. delegations and other notables to the SS Constitution for a champagne party. The liner was tied up at its berth.

Most of the tab was picked up by the American Export Isbrandtsen Lines, the ship's owners.

Among the guests were Nikolai T. Fedorenko, permanent representative of the Soviet Union to the United Nations; retired Gen. and Mrs. James A. Van Fleet; Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, and his wife; and Theodore C. Sorensen, former aide to the late President John F. Kennedy.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — One of the Righteous Brothers, a singing duo, became a father Sunday, Cedars of Lebanon Hospital reported.

It was a first child for Robert Hatfield and his wife Joy. The 7-pound, 13-ounce boy was named Robert Lee Hatfield Jr.

New House Members Lean To Stronger Military Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cross-section check by The Associated Press showed today that sentiment runs strongly among newly elected members of the House of Representatives for greater military efforts in Viet Nam if present policies fail to improve the war situation.

The newcomers — mostly Republicans — also favor cuts in spending and see no need for new civil rights legislation now.

The AP poll of 35 first-term House members elected Nov. 8 shows that 20 Republicans and 5 Democrats favor additional use of U.S. military might to bring the Viet Nam war to an end if present tactics fail.

Four freshmen oppose expansion of the war and six take no public stand.

While many of those questioned said they would vote for a tax increase if needed because of war costs, all but three said they want first to try cutting spending.

Twenty-four first-termers, including five Democrats, said they don't believe new civil rights legislation is needed at this time. Five called for further congressional action and six declined specific comment.

There has been much speculation on the impact of the election in which Republicans gained 47 House seats.

While they can have no formal voice in determining President Johnson's course in Viet Nam, the sharp increase in "hawks" among House members might increase difficulties of the President in keeping the conflict limited in scope.

The "Great Society" programs apparently have lost what may be marginal support with the substantial increase in those who say they are determined to reduce federal spending.

On the basis of the canvass, a civil rights bill which included an antihousing discrimination clause not only would face a probable Senate filibuster but would have extremely difficult going in the House.

First-term members were asked:

1. Would you favor escalation of the war in Viet Nam if the present course fails to show signs of improving the situation?

2. Would you favor increasing income taxes or cutting domestic programs as a means of financing the war?

3. Do you think there is any need for new civil rights legislation at this time?

The Republicans, of course, have considerably more new members than the Democrats. The canvass reached 26 of the 48 new House Republicans and 9 of the 14 Democrats.

Jerry L. Pettis, newly elected Republican in the 33rd California District, sounded like many of his colleagues-to-be in endorsing an escalation of the war.

"There is not much hope of getting the Communists to the negotiating table unless they are convinced they have been defeated militarily," he said.

Thomas F. Railsback, Republican who is Illinois' only new member of the House, said he doesn't favor moving more and more U.S. troops into Viet Nam. He said he feels "we should be doing some military activities we are not doing."

Bob Eckhardt, Democrat elected in the 8th District of Texas, said he is against escalation of the fighting. But he added that if the present course doesn't show improvement in the situation, "that would call for re-evaluation."

Rep.-elect William Nichols, D-Ala., said he "very definitely" favors escalation of the war. But Rep.-elect John R. Dellenback, R-Ore., wasn't prepared to commit himself to any such course before every effort is made otherwise "to settle this on a sound, long range, realistic basis."

Rep.-elect Larry Winn Jr., R-Kan., called for a "change in our offensive direction" because "we don't seem to be winning or losing." Rep.-elect Dan Kuykendall, R-Tenn., favored all efforts "short of using nuclear weapons."

Two opposing opinions on the question of tax increases versus spending cuts came from Texas.

George Bush, Republican elected in the 7th District said: "First cut expenditures. Then, if you have to, raise taxes." Eckhardt said he opposes cuts in domestic spending "as long as the money is well spent." He was against reducing domestic programs but he took no stand on a possible tax boost.

Rep.-elect William A. Steiger, R-Wis., said establishment of a priority in federal spending, with reductions in nonessential, nondefense outlays, would be the best means of controlling inflation. He said, however, he probably would vote for a tax increase if it is requested to finance the war.

Steiger was one of five who favor new civil rights legislation.

"We need to insure equality of opportunity for all citizens," he said. "We can never stop until a full equality has been arrived at."

On the other hand, G.V. Montgomery, newly elected Democrat from Mississippi, said he not only opposes new legislation in this field but "I will work for repeal of the civil rights laws they have now."

Sherman P. Lloyd, Republican elected in the 2nd District of Utah, said he has no information indicating a need for new civil rights legislation. Rep.-elect Roger H. Zion, R-Ind., said he thinks racial problems "could be solved with better education and job opportunities," rather than by new laws.

Rep.-elect Robert B. Mathias, R-Calif., said he thinks there should be a breathing spell "while we see which of the present laws will work and which may not."

But Rep.-elect Gilbert Gude, R-Md., said he feels that another try should be made to pass the civil rights bill, with its housing provision, which was shelved this year. He said there should be an amendment exempting private housing.

Washington Capsules

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury Department officials are considering asking Congress early next year for a quick increase in the $330-billion limit on the national debt.

The department announced Monday the debt came within $360.4 million of the limit last Wednesday. This was the closest the debt has come to the ceiling during the current fiscal year.

Officials said a decision whether to seek an increase in the debt limit is expected by the middle of this month.

Officials said the increased debt is due in part to tight money conditions, which prevented the government from selling some of its financial assets to the public.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George A. Smathers is retiring as secretary of the Democratic Conference — one of three principal Senate Democratic leadership posts.

The Florida senator said in a letter to Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield that was released Monday that he would not seek re-election to the post because of health reasons.

A BIG LIFT to helicopter service could be the result of this recent design by Lockheed. Able to transport a 20-ton payload—twice that of any U.S. helicopter now flying—the passenger-cargo craft could be in service in the early 1970s, with both military and civil applications. Operating range for the 104-foot long helicopter would be 1,000 miles with a 10-ton payload.

'GI Jill' Remembers Past Years

SCARSDALE, N.Y. (AP) — A soldier's name for his girl was Jill. And because they were enlisted men, and wanted to discourage the brass from claiming her, they declared her Government Issue and christened her "GI Jill."

"Hi ya fellas. This is GI Jilll. Of the jivin' Jills. The jukebox Jills. These are the records that were the most requested on your local station record shows back home, the records you have in your own library. So gather a bit closer."

For seven years — 1943-1950 — GI Jill used her seven-day-a-week radio show to help make life more pleasant for American servicemen around the world.

Today GI Jill, whose real name is Marty Werner, lives in Scarsdale, N.Y., the wife of Mort Werner, a vice president of the National Broadcasting Co. and the mother of a 19-year-old daughter she has lovingly named Jill.

She remembers her GI Jill work as "the most important thing I've ever done in my life." In the moments she can spare from her duties as a housewife, she is writing a screenplay about Jill's life.

Jill often had company when she did her shows. Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, Tommy Dorsey and Frank Sinatra dropped by as often as they could.

Mrs. Werner keeps a small wooden box in the bedroom of her house. It contains a few trinkets that have survived since her radio days.

There is a bracelet made of the broken window of a downed airplane, and another of an almost weightless metal alloy used in airplanes. There is a heart-shaped pendant inscribed roughly, "To Jill from Lou, 1944," and another, "New Guinea to Jill."

Mrs. Werner said that "Jill tried to answer all the letters and send thanks for all the trinkets she got. When the guys took time enough to write, they deserved an answer.

"But then some of the letters would come back with a big stamp, "Deceased." You get those and it really hurts."

GIANT CARGO JET that would carry as much as 330,000 pounds of cargo was revealed by Lockheed at their third annual meeting and technical display recently. Aimed at more economical air transport service sometime in the 1970s, the big plane's major features will include a more advanced engine developing about 50,000 pounds takeoff thrust, beefed-up structure and new landing gear that will impose less stress on airport runways than current large jets.

Church Women Hold Christmas Program

The United Church Women of Sedalia met Friday morning, Dec. 2 at the Immanuel United Church of Christ for their annual Christmas program and installation of officers.

The following officers were installed by the Rev. M. C. Albright; Mrs. James Callis, president; Mrs. Donald Barnes, first vice-president; Mrs. Roy Brown, second vice-president; Mrs. Carl Zimmerschied, third vice-president; Mrs. E. G. Wilson, recording secretary; Mrs. Ella Virgil, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Ralph Coen, treasurer.

In his remarks, the Rev. Albright shared an idea from Miss Margaret Shannon, executive director of the United Church Women, that the women consider themselves united rather than to limit to the confines of the organization.

Mrs. Ernest Liebel led the program of Scriptures, Christmas thoughts and music, assisted by Mrs. Carl Zimmerschied, soloist.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. James Callis.

Coffee and rolls were served by the host church preceding the meeting.

Which King for Spain?

After three decades without direct say in their government, Spaniards are being given the opportunity to vote on their future—how they are to be governed after 73-year-old General Francisco Franco, Spain's absolute master since the 1936-39 Civil War, leaves the scene. Franco is putting to a national vote his plan for a restored monarchy. But even if the monarchy wins public approval, as expected, a question remains: Who is to sit on the throne last held by King Alfonso XIII, right, whose exile in 1931 ushered in first a shaky republic and then Franco's long dictatorship?

Believed Franco's favorite and therefore automatically front-runner is Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, 28. He has been carefully schooled under Franco's direction and lives in Spain with his wife, Princess Sophia of Greece. But a problem is his father,

Don Juan de Borbon, 53, the Count of Barcelona. As the son of Alphonso, he is first in line as legitimate heir to the throne and has never renounced his claims. He has made Portugal his home in exile. There is also a dark horse in the race,

Prince Carlos Hugo de Borbon-Parma, 35, representing a branch of the royal family, the Carlists, that has long claimed to be the rightful royal line. Married in 1964 to Princess Irene of the Netherlands, he has been living in France.

Claim Cuban Women Never Had It So Good

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban women, says Havana Radio, never had it so good.

No more of that "bourgeois, inferior sex nonsense."

Boasted the Miami-monitored broadcast: "The Cuban women of today are agricultural workers, cane cutters, mechanics, traffic police, members of the revolutionary armed forces and invaluable companions in difficult moments when the fatherland needs their services."

The revolution, they were reminded Monday night, has allowed women to show they can handle heavy work.

The occasion for the broadcast was a national meeting of the Cuban Women's Federation.

No Inaugural Ball Because Of Viet Nam

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—There will be no inaugural ball next month when Lurleen Wallace becomes governor of Alabama.

John Pemberton, chairman of inauguration day planning, said Monday that "due to the cost of the commitment in Viet Nam, with many of our native sons involved, it has been decided that it would be inappropriate to have an inaugural ball this year."

24 Years Later

Japan Emerging Friendly After Shock of Defeat

TOKYO (AP) — A quarter of a century after Pearl Harbor, Japan is again established as a giant among Asian nations. It wants to be a friendly giant.

Relations with its neighbors range from uncomfortable to cordial. They are steadily improving, with World War II fading into the past.

Yet memories of the war and earlier occupations linger in some places. And there is some fear of economic domination by resurgent Japanese industry.

Japan itself is still emerging from the psychological shock of defeat.

It is promoting trade, but underplaying politics. Some critics have speculated Tokyo is peacefully trying to establish the "greater East Asia coprosperity sphere" that Japan failed to impose by force.

Japan is now offering economic and technical aid to other Asian countries. A Japanese Peace Corps is at work. Government ministers are making regular visits abroad. But Japan has far to go.

Here is a country-by-country rundown of Japan's image in the eyes of other Asians:

PHILLIPINES

The Filipino is gradually losing his hatred of his former conquerors. A few pockets of resentment remain.

SINGAPORE

Many here still hate the Japanese. Unwritten immigration laws ban any Japanese involved in the occupation from returning.

The government has urged people to forgive and forget.

INDONESIA

Japan is moving fast to gain a foothold in Indonesia. Particularly interested in developing oil fields, mining and industry, Japan gave Indonesia a $30-million credit this year.

High pressure methods of Japanese, such as bringing 10 or more men into a conference with two Indonesian officials, disturb Indonesians.

MALAYSIA

Japanese advertisements flash in Malaysian cities. Japanese traffic includes businessmen, tourists, Peace Corps volunteers, aid missions and night club performers.

The economic invasion is likened by one merchant to the military invasion of 25 years ago. But this time, he said, "The Japanese are welcome — they offer all the good things in life, carpets to pearls, at a cheaper price."

NATIONALIST CHINA

The shadow of Red China darkens relations between Taipei and Tokyo. President Chiang Kai-shek's regime discounts a Japanese belief that Japanese trade with the mainland can be separated from politics.

Nationalist trade with Japan and Japanese loans are important factors in Formosa's economy. Contacts are correct, but lack the warmth Formosa shows to other nations such as the United States and South Korea.

SOUTH KOREA

To many Koreans, Japan is still a former enemy and colonial ruler with whom their government restored normal relations just a year ago.

President Chung Hee Park says Koreans do not have to forget the past, but must work with Japan to maintain peace and security in north Asia.

HONG KONG

Japan is Hong Kong's biggest supplier after Red China. Imports from Japan in the first six months of 1966 totaled about $14 million compared to $20 million from China.

Japanese businessmen say they have experienced no anti-Japanese discrimination in the British colony.

But it is generally acknowledged that there is an undercurrent of feeling — possibly minor — among middle-aged residents.

THAILAND

Thailand and Japan have excellent relations. But hints are dropped here from time to time about the dangers of an imbalance in trade.

In 1965, Japan exported to Thailand $219 million worth of goods, one-third of Thailand's total foreign trade. Thailand's exports totaled $151 million.

Shortages Of Food Are World-Wide

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Food shortages have become a tremendous worldwide problem, says Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan.

The abundance of food in the heart of America's wheat country is a great contrast to hunger in many parts of the world, Carlson said Monday night at the annual meeting of the hard winter wheat quality advisory council.

He said statistics indicate that 80 per cent of the world's people will be living in hungry lands by the year 2000.

"We and the other affluent nations cannot exist for long as an island of abundance in a sea of despair," he said.

Carlson said America must help prevent mass starvation anywhere in the world; develop commercial markets for American agricultural products, and help emerging nations improve production so they can feed their own people.

The senator praised the work of Great Plains Wheat and Western Wheat Associates, both grower organizations, and the U.S. Agriculture Department for finding new markets.

Their efforts have made Japan a wheat-eating nation and our No. 1 commercial market for wheat, he said.

Quality of grain must be improved, Carlson said, and the federal grain marketing research laboratory to be built in Manhattan, Kan., will help maintain quality. The $3.3 million laboratory is expected to be ready for use in 1970.

Light Problem on Third St.

The assumption that change is not made without inconvenience, even from worse to better, might apply to a proposal at city council meeting.

Councilman James Askren asked that the Traffic Advisory committee make a study of the traffic lights at Third street and Grand avenue and at Third street and Missouri avenue, the objective being their removal. Alternatives could be four-way stop signs or blinkers like the one at Main street and Missouri avenue.

Whether this change would be from worse to better poses an enigma as anyone will vouchsafe, more especially those living on the street which carries the traffic to Liberty Park.

One thing noticeable about blinker controls is the bottleneck on the red when a prolonged stream of traffic rides through the yellow without interruption. Impatient motorists dub this the 5 o'clock traffic shadow on Missouri avenue.

Present traffic lights at the two important intersections under discussion have the effect of slowing down drivers who seem to have a demon-like urge to barrel through where controls are non-existent.

No objection to a study of traffic conditions at these intersections is warranted. If anyone can come up with something better than the regular lights there now, then all Third street residents will give them hearty thanks.

But no controls at all would be simply perilous. Even with the ones there now, some drivers try to emulate Barney Oldfield on a race track just for two blocks between the only light stops from Ohio avenue to Liberty Park.

Four-way stop signs at these two places may be the answer if a change is contemplated. This method of controlling traffic at other intersections has meet with public acceptance by both motorists and pedestrians in areas of heavy traffic movement downtown and elsewhere.

Taking turns at four-way stops works adequately and with minimum risk of accidents. Of course this method is not foolproof because sooner or later other drivers encounter knothead bullies who barge through an intersection before their turn comes. Fortunately they are in such minority that saner ones still prefer controls by four way stops. This method seems to slow down traffic at the same time permitting a smooth flow of vehicles in all directions.

An experiment with this method at Grand and Missouri on Third is suggested. At the outset it should have the support of observing eyes of patrolmen just in case some drivers can't resist a temptation to defy the regulations.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Battle For Gulf of Tonkin Continues

BY DREW PEARSON

(Editor's Note — Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his grandson, George L. Arnold, Jr.)

WASHINGTON, D. C.
December 5, 1966

Dear Georgie,

You were born just a few hours before Pearl Harbor Day, which is supposed to make you a very turbulent fellow.

Of course I know you are not. But having reached the austere age of sixteen this week, I thought I would write you about some of the developments which occurred 25 years ago which led to Pearl Harbor, becauee wars seem to have a habit of coming every 25 years (your Daddy served in Guam and Iwo Jima after Pearl Harbor and both your grandfathers served in World War I) and the only way to prevent wars from coming again is to discuss their problems and head them off.

In one respect the world has not changed at all since Pearl Harbor; in several other respects it has.

The respect in which it hasn't changed is that we are still fighting for the area of Southeast Asia which President Roosevelt considered important at the time of Pearl Harbor 25 years ago. At that time, Roosevelt sent a confidential memo to the State, War and Navy Departments informing them that the Gulf of Tonkin — on which Viet Nam borders — was considered crucial to the defense of the United States, and that we would fight to keep it out of Japanese hands.

On the day Japan took us by surprise at Pearl Harbor, one arm of the American Navy was cruising in the Southeast Pacific for the purpose of heading off the Japanese if they tried to take the Gulf of Tonkin.

Japan Adopts Salesmanship

Today the Japanese are a lot smarter than they were 25 years ago and this is one of the big changes in the world today. Twenty-five years ago they were out to win Asia by arms; today they are winning Asia by persuasion, by producing attractive goods and using good salesmanship to sell them.

They have found that an efficient salesman in Thailand or Indonesia is much more productive than a battleship.

The Japanese are also the world's most ardent nation in protesting the use of, or even experiments with the atom bomb. They know first hand the awesome desolation of Nagasaki and Hiroshima.

A second big change in the 25 years since Pearl Harbor occurred in the mass of people on the continent of Asia called China.

At the time of Pearl Harbor, China was a sprawling, subjugated series of provinces, most of them ruled by separate war lords, with the key cities occupied by the Japanese military. China was impotent and pathetic.

Today this mass of 700,000,000 people is united, vigorous and ready to strike back at anyone who attacks them. The Japanese Army could no more occupy their cities today than I could come out to California and occupy Sunset Strip on Saturday night.

Furthermore, the Chinese now have atomic weapons and apparently are not afraid to use them, for Mao Tse-Tung has said that "China is the only country in the world which can withstand atomic war and still have 300,000,0000 people left."

So any surprise attack, any Pearl Harbor of the future, is much more likely to come from China than from any other country.

Preventing Pearl Harbor

And the big question is: How do we prevent it?

Ordinarily you head off war by sitting down and talking with a nation. This is what we are doing with the Russians, and with various other nations. But we can't talk to the Chinese — except in occasional stilted conversations in Warsaw, Poland — because we have no diplomatic relations with them. As nations, we don't speak to each other.

This came about because a wave of narrow-mindedness usually called "McCarthyism" — started by a Senator of that name — terrorized State Department officials into boycotting China. Officials who wanted to talk to China to try to improve relations were fired.

Today, twenty years later, we have more sense, and Secretary of State Rusk has recently proposed to China that we exchange professors and scientists as a step toward getting reacquainted. He has proposed that American newspapermen go over there. He even suggested that we exchange information about seeds.

But the Chinese have turned a deaf ear. They seem to enjoy the isolation into which we have pushed them. I am convinced that if we had followed the advice of Gen. George Marshall, a great soldier and former Chief of Staff who as Ambassador to China recommended cooperation rather than isolation, China would not be so dangerous today. But Gen. Marshall was called a communist for making this recommendation.

Thus we reap the mistakes of those who have gone before, and I hope that you, who are now sixteen, will not have to reap the mistakes of the Senator McCarthys and of the officials who cowered before him. I hope you will not have to go off to fight another world war. The South Viet Nam War, which really comes from the China impasse, is bad enough.

If we get into a military showdown with a nation of 700,000,000 people, no one can begin to estimate the eventualities.

Your Grandfather, however, is an optimist. The world's statesmen, I am convinced, do learn. They do profit from the mistakes of the past. And a few years from now you, a fellow who was born on the eve of Pearl Harbor's anniversary, will be old enough to help them profit.

Love,
Your Grandfather.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

An aroused United States, attacked in Hawaii without warning by Japan, grimly prepared for total war. In Sedalia a terse message received by Mrs. John Whiteman, 623 West 24th street, from the U.S. War Department stated that her son, Second Lieut. George A. Whiteman, 21, stationed at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, had been killed in action when the sneak attack occurred. Sedalians, generally, were stunned by the war news. A special war Extra issue was published by the Sedalia Democrat-Capital and distributed to all homes.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Georgetown Baptist church, one of the old Cedar Township landmarks, built in 1857, was destroyed by fire following explosion of a gasoline torch used by workmen. Several years ago it was abandoned for church use.

Treaties with the Indian tribes were made by the federal goverment and states cannot interfere with these treaty rights.

World's highest waterfall is Angel Falls, Venezuela.

Actors May Liven Up Halls of Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maybe the whole thing's wrong.

Maybe Congress is too stuffy, too stiff, too cramped, too much in a rut and out of date. Maybe it needs to move outdoors, on a mountain or near one, in a field, in the woods, near a stream, or under a tent.

Perhaps a little music, or singing, or a few horsemen dashing up the grassy aisle at the last minute to break a tie vote would liven things up a bit, just to break the sameness and get the public interested.

In recent years there have been only three good actors in the Senate: Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Texas Democrat; and two Republican senators: George Murphy of California and Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Johnson moved on to the White House. Murphy has hardly performed in his old professional way. Only Dirksen has never stopped acting.

He has just come out with a hit album of dramatic readings, "The Gallant Men," recorded in his voice which is one of the most fascinating in America since it starts out sounding like, "Oh, boy" and suddenly sounds like, "Oh, Lord."

It's beginning to sink in on politicians that they've lost their magic.

All year people by the hundreds of thousands troop into the Capitol to watch the House and Senate, where it's all free, and probably not one in a thousand sits through one whole day to watch and listen.

But, for that matter, it's a rare senator or representative who sits in his chamber one whole day to listen to his colleagues, either.

Yet, around the country people pay out money by the bushels to sit for hours to see a show or hear a concert. And everywhere in America millions from supper to midnight sit entranced before television.

No wonder in California the Republicans picked Ronald Reagan to be their gubernatorial candidate or that the people elected him. And no wonder that now defeated Democratic governor, Edmund G. Brown, is suggesting actor Gregory Peck would be a good bet to run for the Senate.

Chuck Connors, one-time ballplayer and television Western star, and John Wayne, the strong silent type of movies and television, have been mentioned as fine political candidates.

A few musicians like Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, for instance, would liven up Senate sessions. When the Southerners put on a filibuster to block a civil rights bill they usually play to pretty thin galleries.

If Armstrong were a senator, and pulled out his trumpet to put on an anti-filibuster filibuster, he'd pack the place, wherever it was. And if Marian Anderson could get elected to the Senate and, instead of making a speech, gave a weekly performance with her magnificent contralto, the Senate could help reduce the national debt by selling tickets.

She'd be a sell-out every time. She'd never have to make a speech, just sing what she wanted to say.

There'd be real revolution in the Senate's way of doing things if New York sent Edward (Duke) Ellington to the Senate since he could provide both religious and jazz music for his colleagues.

There might be a hitch here, of course. He'd have to get unanimous consent before his orchestra in the gallery, or on the benches in the back of the tent, could play, but once it did there'd be dancing in the aisles.

Neither House nor Senate has any sense of humor. There's not a comedian in either place. This could be remedied if there were a Sen. Jack Benny or a Rep. Milton Berle.

And there would be 100 per cent roll calls in the House every time for sure if the speaker was the unpredictable Phyllis Diller. And who could break up bum arguments better in House or Senate, even without a gun, than James Arness, who plays Matt Dillon in Gunsmoke every Saturday night?

Difficult Hand Easily Played

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "If Al Morehead had any weakness at the bridge table it was that occasionally he made a simple hand look difficult. On the other hand he was in a class by himself at making a difficult hand look simple."

Jim: "Here is a hand from 'Morehead on Bidding' which shows how to make a difficult hand look easy. Al reports that when South played the hand he cashed two trumps. Then he led out the ace and king of hearts only to have East ruff in and beat him."

Oswald: "Al explained that about half the experts shown this hand went down just as the actual declarer had. I must point out that Al solved the problem of making the grand slam in about three seconds."

Jim: "Here is his explanation: 'The proper play is quite obvious when you stop to consider it. You should not try to guard against a 5-0 heart split but you should guard against a 4-1 split in that suit combined with a 3-1 trump break. At trick two, cash your queen of trumps. Then you cash the ace of hearts, enter dummy with the ace of trumps, discard your king of hearts on the king of clubs, ruff a heart with your jack of trumps and enter dummy with the king of trumps. This is the third trump lead and pulls East's last trump. Then you ruff another low heart with your last trump, cash your ace of diamonds and claim the balance in dummy with a trump and three good hearts'."

Oswald: "Obvious to Al. He was perhaps the greatest analyst of all time."

Jim: "Morehead points out in his analysis of the bidding that South really should have bid five no-trump, the grand slam force, to ask his partner to bid the grand slam if he held both ace and king of spades. This would have been more elegant and better bidding but would not have changed the final contract."

A Grim Reminder

Oil Still Seeps From Dead Ship Sunk At Pearl Harbor

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — More than a generation has passed, but tiny droplets of oil still filter to the surface of the water, bursting into a kaleidoscope of color above the sunken battleship Arizona.

Twenty-five years later, the memory of Dec. 7, 1941, lingers, a recollection of horror, of disbelief.

The men who died that day, 2,409 of them, now are names on the walls of a gleaming white memorial.

The memorial, inside Pearl Harbor, straddles the sunken battleship from which the oil still seeps and aboard which remain the bodies of 1,102 officers and men of the U.S. Navy.

Gene Lindsey of Jefferson City, Mo., president of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, has led an unprecedented number of survivors to Hawaii for the 25th anniversary of the Japanese attack. Lindsey was a signalman aboard the destroyer Chew, moored about 500 yards from famed Battleship Row when the first bombs fell.

"Everything happened all of a sudden," he recalled. "When the Arizona was hit, she just exploded."

A bomb set off the battlewagon's forward ammunition magazine. A "one-in-a-million" bomb went down her stack. She was hit by torpedoes. More bombs dropped on her decks and flames shot hundreds of feet into the air.

Throughout that day, Pearl Harbor's waters — now so tranquil, so serene — were aflame with burning oil, with men struggling toward the shores of Ford Island.

In the 110 minutes the Japanese attack lasted, the U.S. Navy lost more men than it lost in the Spanish-American War, World War I, and Korea, combined.

It plunged the United States into World War II.

It was a lesson of unpreparedness, and something that military men say will not happen again. Today, few ships are seen in the harbor. They come, they go. But there is never the assembly of warships like the fleet that was riding at anchor 25 years ago.

On that day, 18 vessels were sunk or seriously damaged. Nine of the 18 were the battleships Arizona, California, Maryland, Nevada, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Utah, Tennessee and West Virginia. The Utah, like the Arizona, went down with part of her crew trapped aboard. She remains a tomb for 58 men.

Most of the people who were there, or who lived in nearby Honolulu, say today it took them some time to realize that that Sunday morning attack was real.

Martin Vitousek, an associate geophysicist at the University of Hawaii, was with his father in a light plane when the Japanese bombers and torpedo planes dipped down over the Waianae mountain range and sped across the harbor.

Vitousek recalls shouting to his father, "Look! P40s." He was identifying the planes as U.S. fighters.

And Roy L. Vitousek replied, "P40s hell! They're Japanese."

Somehow, the two men got their tiny Aeronca down at Honolulu airport, which also was used by the Army Air Corps at Hickam Field. They dodged bullets as the Japanese began strafing, and made it to cover inside a hangar.

"The people there hadn't realized even then that it was the Japanese," Vitousek said.

Though one of the airport employes was dead, the others thought he'd been killed by an American plane whose pilot had forgotten to empty its guns.

At Hickam, Pvt. Frank Frucci of Niles, Mich., was waiting for his buddy, Bernard Cullinane of Kalamazoo. He looked at his watch.

"Bernie, it's five before eight. If we're going to make it to Mass, we'd better hurry," said Frucci, peering through a barracks window to see what all the noise was about.

At the same time, Pfc. Gabriel Christie of Brooklyn, N.Y., slapped a baseball into a glove, and hung around outside the same barracks waiting for friends. Hearing an explosion, he thought: "Heck, the Navy's working at war games on a Sunday."

In a few seconds, Hickam Field was also to feel the fury of the Japanese attackers. More than 200 Army Air Corps men, some of them buddies of Frucci and Christie, were killed and more than 350 were injured as the attack immobilized the grounded U.S. planes. Hickam is adjacent to Pearl Harbor and was a prime target that day.

Frucci survived the attack and is chairman of the survivors' association Michigan chapter. As such, he is back in Hawaii for the first time in 23 years.

Christie, a master sergeant awaiting retirement, is working in the same barracks building 25 years later. It is now headquarters of the Pacific Air Forces. Cullinane died at his home last March.

Frucci is one of almost 3,000 Pearl Harbor survivors and relatives of the dead who are in Hawaii for memorial services, scheduled to begin at precisely 7:55 a.m. today at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific, and at sunset at the Arizona Memorial.

"All we want to do," said Lindsey of his fellow association members, "is remember Pearl Harbor...and our men who were killed. This is not just a trip to Hawaii for these men. There will be a lot of tears shed Wednesday (and) yours truly is not excluded."

Artificial Heart Works Successfully

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Esperanza del Valle Vasquez, the first person to survive surgery with an artificial heart pump, plans to return to her job as a beautician in Mexico City this week or next.

"I feel marvelous," she said. "I can do almost anything I want now, walk without getting tired and eat anything. It is so marvelous just to be alive."

Mrs. Vasquez, 37, underwent heart surgery in Houston, Tex., Aug. 8 to have two valves in her heart replaced.

A team of doctors led by Dr. Michael DeBakey planted a dome-shaped left ventricle bypass pump in Mrs. Vasquez' right side near her waist to keep her blood circulating while her own heart recovered. The pump was in place for 10 days. In four other similar operations, the patients died of complications.

Mrs. Vasquez left Texas Sept. 7 and returned to the modest home in Mexico City she shares with her sister's family. She rested and had frequent checks by her cardiologist, Dr. Teodoro E. Ceserman.

"I still go to the doctor twice a week," Mrs. Vasquez said, "but it is not because anything is wrong. He just wants to talk to me and that's a privilege for me. Dr. Ceserman is the most wonderful man in the world. He convinced me to have the operation and now I owe him my life."

Mrs. Vasquez, who has an 8-year-old son, said her recuperation has caused no problems and she has no immediate plans to return to Houston.

Girl Scout Notes

Troop 361 met in Sacred Heart cafeteria on Nov. 23. The meeting was opened with the flag ceremony. A short skit was presented with the Girl Scout Laws as a basis. Then the troop played a brief game.

At the previous meeting the troop walked to the courthouse, where they joined Troop 352 and J. R. Fritz. Mr. Fritz led them through the building, explaining its many purposes.

Mrs. Trotter and Mrs. Grott are the leaders of the troop.

The Senior Girl Scout troop met Dec. 1 at the home of Mrs. Robert Fingland. Pins, that the girls ordered, were passed out. Several girls received Service Aide Bars, in the field they are able to give service in.

Orinna Smith and Sherry Fingland taught songs to a Brownie troop at Horace Mann School during the time of the first part of the meeting. When they returned, they told of their experience in teaching the group.

The requirements for Leader-In-Training were discussed.

The Boy Scout dance group was also explained further, and preparations were made for their costumes.

The Troop's adviser is Mrs. Robert Fingland.

Cadette Troop 396 met at the Wesley Methodist Church, Nov. 28. The troop discussed a Girl Scout Opportunity, which is available to girls who have passed two challenges.

Then the girls divided into patrols and made plans for a Re-dedication Ceremony, to be held at the next meeting. A Friendship Circle closed the meeting.

At the meeting of the week before, plans were made for the family that the troop had adopted for Christmas. Badges, pins and attendance were also discussed.

Leaders of the troop are Mrs. Cromlye and Mrs. Ellison.

Troop 397 met Nov. 23, 1966, at the First Christian Church. The meeting began with the taking of the roll and the collecting of dues.

While Patrol 1 prepared for the Scouts' Own, Patrol 3 wrote invitations to the mothers, for Court of Awards ceremony to be held Nov. 29. After Patrol 1 presented the Scout's Own, Patrol 2 gave the flag ceremony with the assistance of Patrol 3.

The remainder of the meeting was spent practicing the songs they would sing at the Court of Awards.

The leaders are Mrs. George Goodier and Mrs. Herbert Taylor.

Junior Troop 353 of Horace Mann School met Nov. 28. The troop went on a cookout, which had been planned the week before, at Liberty Park. The troop cooked and ate supper there. The troop was then taken back to school, where parents picked them up.

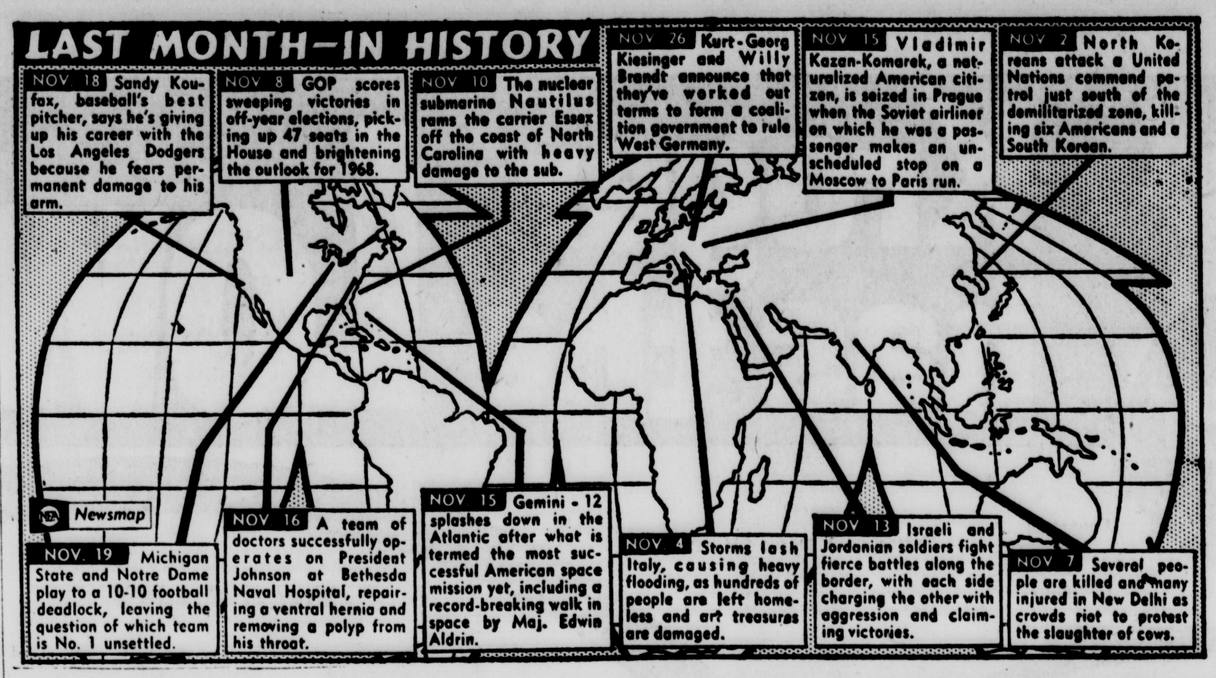

The leaders are Mrs. Earl Thompson, Mrs. Ray Fisher, Mrs. Wlliam Starett and Mrs. Uvonne Balke.

On Nov. 22, Junior Troop 374 met at Wesley Methodist church. The troop visited the Campbell Rest Home and the Fairview Rest Home. Several of the patients at the rest homes received sweet potato vines, which the girls themselves had grown. The vines were in vases, which the girls had made at the previous meeting. The girls also sang hymns to the patients.

After completing their visits, the troop had a special treat of ice cream bars.

At the previous meeting Sally Rogers and Kathy Hall gave reports on American symbols. This is a requirement on the Sign of the Arrow.

Mrs. Orin Smith is the leader with Mrs. James Schumaker, Mrs. Ed Hames and Mrs. Don Carpenter as her assistants.

Take Middle Ground On Eisenhower's Need For Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors are taking an apparent middle ground on the seriousness of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's gallbladder condition.

"He must have his gallbladder removed soon," said an official announcement from Gettysburg, Pa., Monday. Eisenhower, 76, is to enter Walter Reed Army Hospital Thursday.

But absence of an immediate emergency was indicated by doctors allowing Eisenhower to keep appointments in New York today and Wednesday, and his presence at his Gettysburg desk Monday for routine business.

The operation—for which no date has been announced — will be his second major surgery and fifth serious illness in 11 years.
